Stan,
I really don't know how to start! So I'll just start putting down thoughts in the order they come in my brain. You don't know how much you've meant to me! You've always been there when I needed someone to talk to! You helped me w/ alot of my problems. You're a great friend & I pray that we always will be. (I have a feeling we will) I'm so glad about you & Jodi! I knew y'all would never break up! I just want to thank you for always being there & for all the fun times we had and will have. Write me at camp!

Love,
Jane

Sandy,
Jodi had better watch out because a lot of people will want to take you out next year. Have a good Summer & I'll see you this summer

Love
Jane

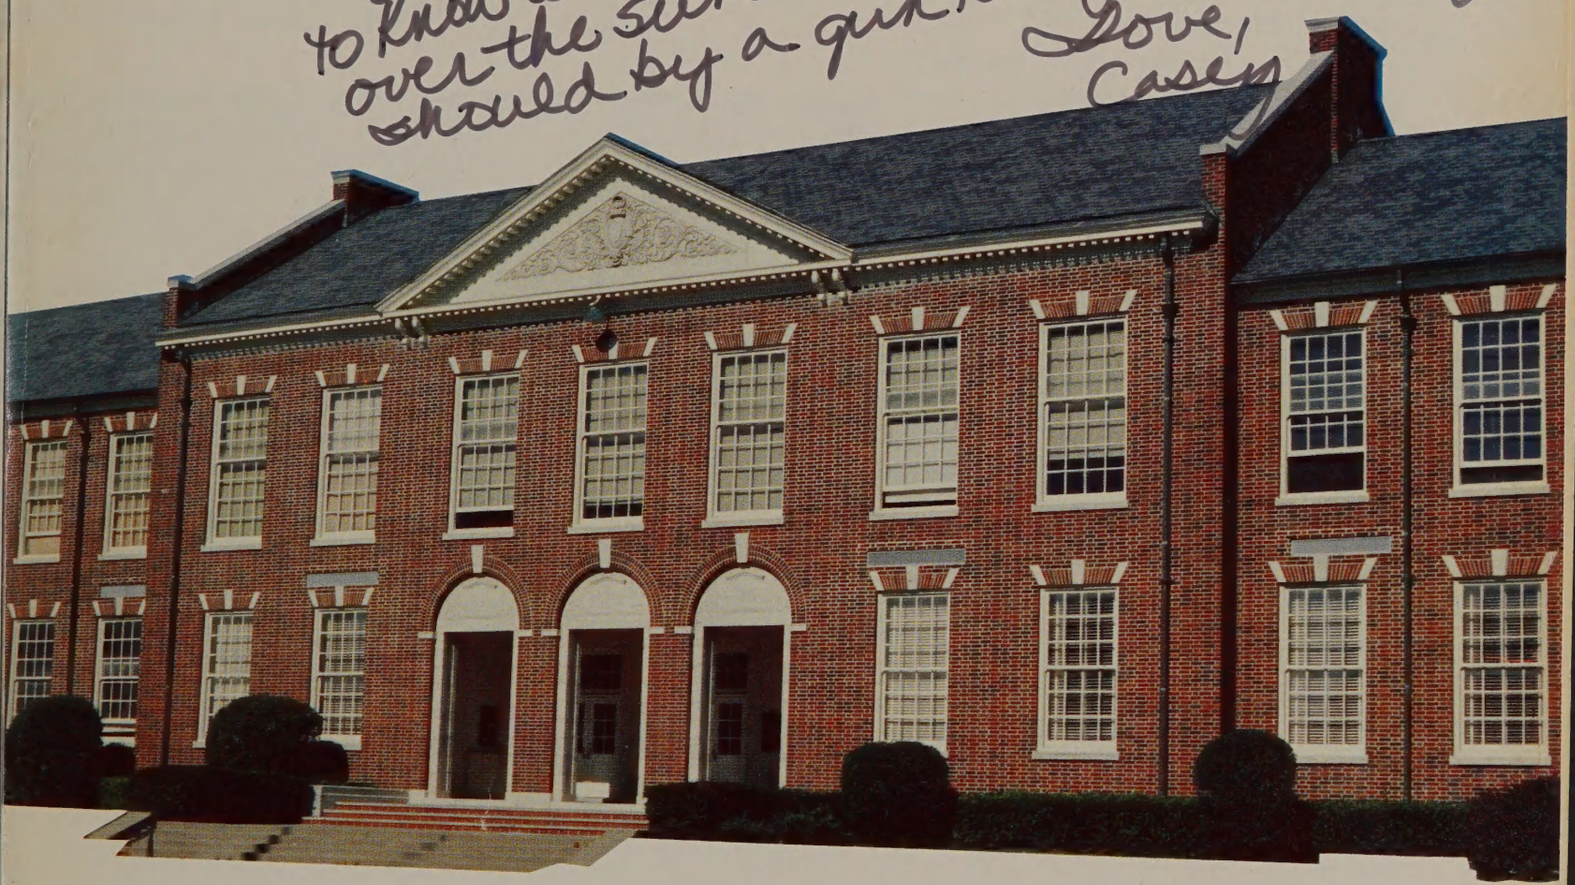

Sandy, I've been through heaven and hell! Since we're such good cheerleaders and great in math! Same qualities! You are really cute and sweet! I am so glad I got to know you! Please let's get better friends in summer! Call me! You mean a lot to me! You will always listen thank you! I hope the Lord will always be with us! Thanks for everything!

Love,
Brenda

Sandy,
Well it's been a terrific year. I wish we had been in some classes together! Stay as sweet as you are and have a great summer!
Love,
Kathy

The way it was then . . . and is today . . .

Rich in years, America learns to value the record of her experiences as an important part of her national treasure.

As the past communicates with the present, we see in this commemorative year how much some things have changed in the last two centuries, how little other things have changed, and how some things never seem to change at all . . .

Sandy,
You're such a sweet and thoughtful girl and I'm glad I got to know you a lot better this year. I can't wait till next year "Soph. Studs". Have a terrific summer cause your really special to me.
Love in Him,
Kathleen

Tools of communication . . .

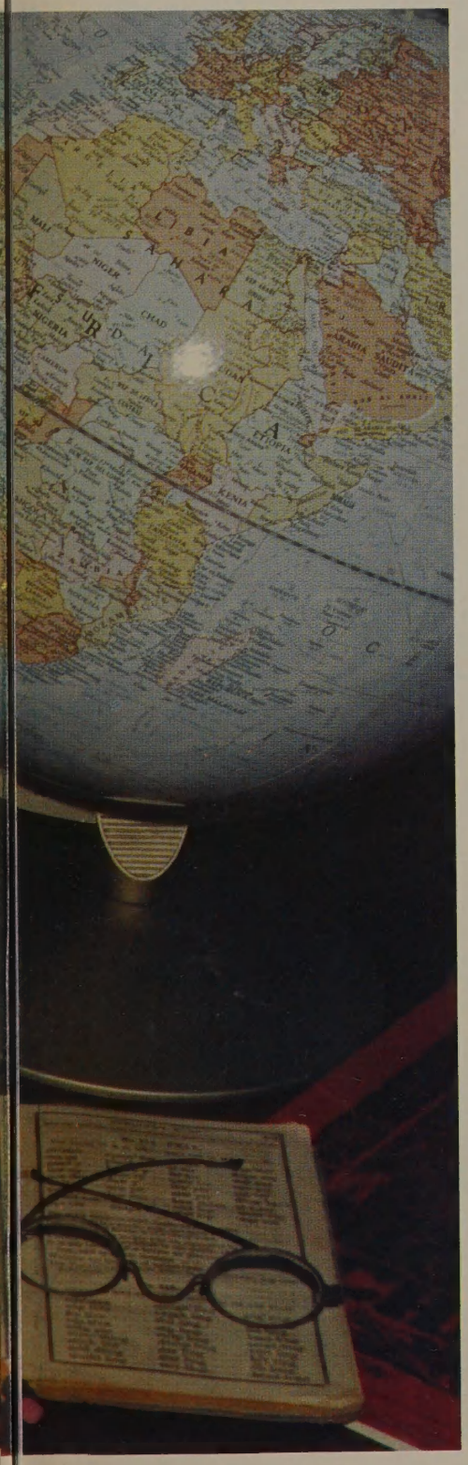

The tools of communication in yesterday's classroom have been replaced by modern counterparts, but the importance of their message remains the same.

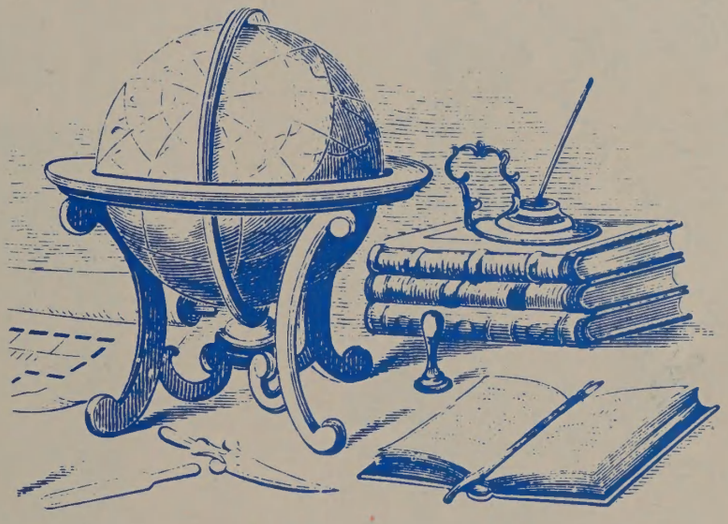

Current events which shape students' lives continually add to the knowledge to be gained. Methods for communicating this knowledge will continue to change in the future.

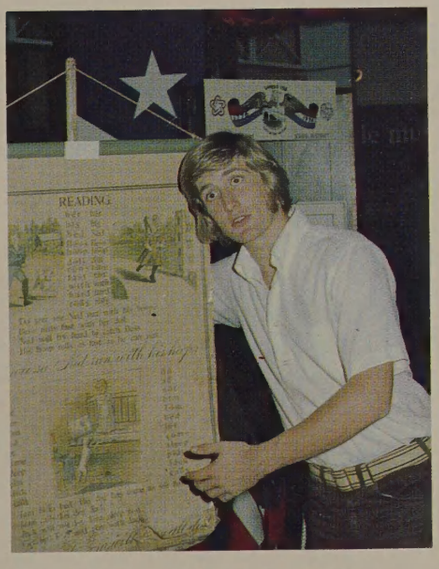

RIGHT: Rising from the rolling plains of North Texas, the distant skyline of metropolitan Dallas offers a sharp contrast to the grassy landscape.
BELOW: School aids such as a McGuffey reader and a desk bell communicate studies of a different era.

"I CAN TOO read this," insists Dick Davis at the State Fair exhibit of old classroom items and aids to learning.

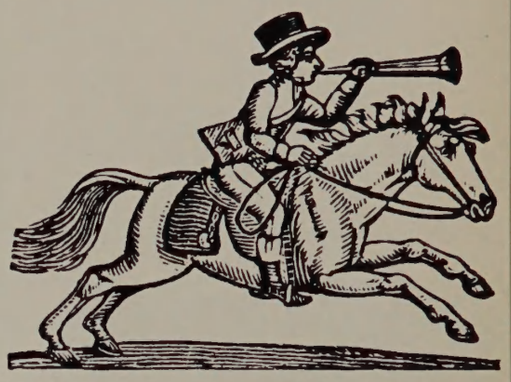

"AND NOW Fibber McGee," croons a radio announcer of an earlier day as Susan Dunn tunes in during "Flight Through America."

Modern messages relate old stories

Two hundred years ago an obscure portion of the northeastern frontier of New Spain was inhabited mostly by Indians and a handful of Spanish missionaries and French traders.

Communication in Texas was a problem for the pioneers. Somehow the message got through then, and it still does today.

Sandy,
This year has been great. Let's get together this summer and maybe we can roll Sharon Taylor into your pool. Have a good summer.

BELOW RIGHT: Candidates' faces and election issues have changed, but the handshake after a political rally is still the same. President Ford makes contact with a potential voter after a speech at SMU early in the fall.

Sandy,

We've really had some fun times this year and I've enjoyed them all! I guess that's what being a freshman is all about!

Sandy, you have been a fantastic friend to me. And I really praise the Lord for it. You're sympathy when I was down and your cheery mood to add to mine when I was in one of those "rose" kind of moods, really made me feel like you cared and that was a fantastic feeling!

friends forever →

Sandy, thanks so much for everything. And don't forget everything is possible w/ God!

Good luck w/ Kott. He's a super neat guy. You're lucky! So's he! Well, so long!

Love, thru Him,
Camie

P.S. Let's get together this summer!

Bicentennial communicates national pride

In 1776 the struggles of 13 colonies more than a thousand miles from Texas seemed remote indeed.

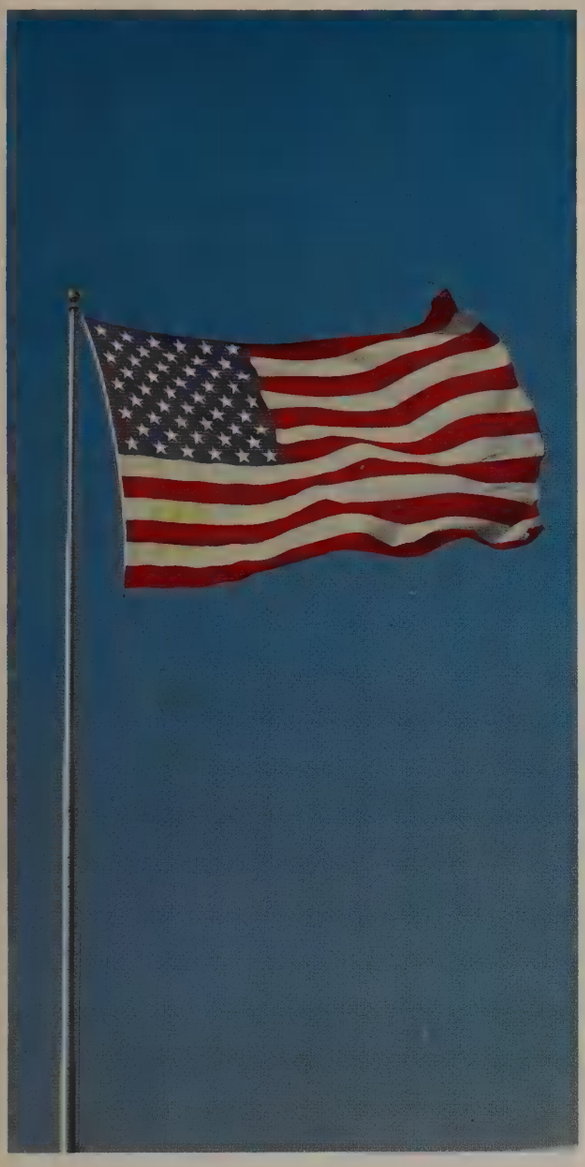

Still another quarter-century was to pass before the first wave of settlers from these colonies would cross the Texas border to bend the shape of history in a way that would make our world a vital part of the heritage of that distant revolution.

Sandy,
It's been fun (oops) in advisory, but we had more fun in Stud. Hall. Good luck w/Lott and stay sweet.
Love ya,
Karen Mundy

Wheels of change revolve around us

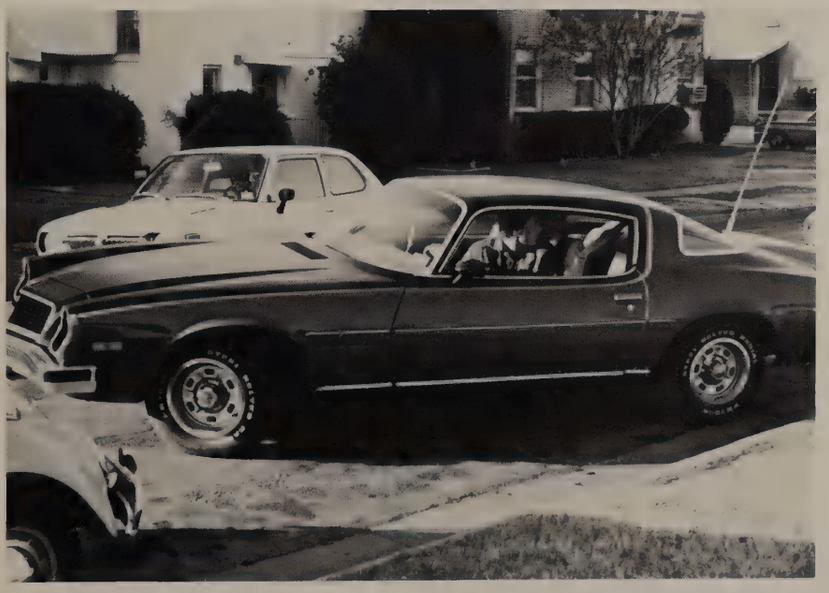

In 1776 there wasn't much to revolve in Texas.

In 1976 . . . the wheels of change have made so many revolutions that now we're right in the middle of the movement.

Most of the local problems are different, and so are the solutions, but some of the issues are the same ones Americans have been facing since 1776 and will still be facing for years to come.

Sandy,
This year has been great getting to know ya better! You're really tons nice so stay that way! OKAY: Listen, I'll see ya over the summer, so take care of yourself! Love ya, Jane

Dear Sandy,
I won't put anything good in this because I know Lott will read it and get back off so I'll just tell you I've had a great time being your friend even when we gets in fights its still pretty cool because it never lasts long. Little do they know what they missing when they go to ~~JCHS~~ J.A. (J.V.) Well it's been fun spending a couple of Sat. nights with you.

Love

Enthusiastic supporters offer encouragement for ~~worthy endeavors~~.

STUDENT LIFE

VICTORY IS CLEARLY in the sights of Molly George and Gail Berry as they lend support to their heroes on the battle line.

Vacations, jobs attract students as days fly by Hands clasped in space marked the unification of space exploration between the United States and Russia this summer, and four HP students traveled to Cape Kennedy Space Center to witness the launch of the Apollo rocket. These students were Allison Autry, Charlotte, Sharon, and Llora Thompson.

Mexico was the destination of seniors Mary Moyer, Julie O'Connell, and Sarah Hosford. Mary spent a week in Puerto Vallarta, and Julie went to Acapulco for a week. Sarah attended classes for two months with a group of students in a Spanish workshop for high school students in Guanajuato

Emily Price acted as a governess for an American family in Europe for a month and spent a second month in Europe on a tour with other high school-age students.

Singing their way through Japan and Hawaii with the First Baptist Church were Mara Boto, Nancy Dupree, and Lori Tucker.

Staying within the bounds of the United States but not the continent, Beth and Randy Johnson took off for Hawaii. Kathy Little sought peace and quiet on an island off the coast of Maine.

Interesting places found different students working during the summer. Seniors Laurie Felvey and Lucy Thrash worked at a novelty shop while Katie Stocks worked at a department store.

A coin-operated laundry washed away juniors Debbie Kirby and Susanna Shytles, while Joan Hodges practiced toothy smiles at a dentist's office.

The night before school started, Big Sisters welcomed their Little Sisters to High School at the annual Hi-Lite picnic. Hi-Lite officers danced and sang, and the varsity cheerleaders showed the new cheers learned at SMU cheerleading school.

Dallasites greet President Ford during fall visit

Scots began the month of September on a relaxed note as they took time off from school to enjoy the Labor Day holiday.

Heading back to work, students found hallways crowded due to the enrollment of a large freshman class, which boosted the total number of students to 1,724.

Interest clubs took up membership drives in their organizations for the new school year. Each group elected officers to coordinate their activities in bi-monthly meetings.

Students had a chance to see President Gerald Ford when he visited Dallas to attend the National Federation of Republican Women's Convention September 13. Senior Catherine Gray took part in the convention, serving as a state page. Highlander photographer Mark Bryson was on hand to photograph President Ford's tour of SMU's Fine Arts Center.

Fifty educators visited the Highland Park school district for three days, observing teachers, classes, and the curriculum of the school. This evaluation takes place every ten years, allowing Highland Park to continue its accreditation in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The annual Howdy Dance September 19 climaxed a week of search for the friendliest Scots of each grade.

Late in September, the speech department sponsored its annual tournament, hosting 40 competing schools. Students offered their services to make the tournament a success. Members of the Distributive Education Club of America provided a "DECA DELI" to prevent tournament participants from starving.

The Highlander Band was honored with an invitation to perform at the half-time of the Dallas Cowboys-St. Louis Cardinals game September 28, and Texas Stadium provided the largest crowd ever to see the band march in formation.

Merit scholars receive awards, recognition,

New federal regulations stipulating equal educational opportunities for both sexes were ignored by the five boys who gained semi-finalist rank in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

Tom Bartholow, David Claman, Paul Davison, Tim Kelly, and Fred Storey qualified by scoring in the top one-half percent in the nation's graduating seniors on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test combined with the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test taken in the fall of their junior year.

Finalists were eligible for one of the many scholarships offered by the National Merit Scholarship Board. Recommendations, achievements, and interests were taken into consideration by the board members.

Fourteen Scots earned Letters of Commendation from the board by scoring in the top one percent of the nation on the test. Gayle Braecklein, Cynthia Davidson, Hunter Farrell, Sandra Hardin, Jay Heimburger, Richard Lafitte, Sherrill Laprade, Margo Meek, David Rardin, Jose Sainz, Roger Webster, and Katherine Zimmerman received Honorable Mention awards.

Programs bring foreign visitors, representatives

"Win a few, lose a few" was the outcome of the wrangle over parking problem at Highland Park. Student Council members were successful in getting the University Park City Council to remove parking restrictions on one nearby street, but the city fathers played "Indian giver" by slapping new restrictions on McFarlin Boulevard.

Tom Bartholow, David Claman, Paul Davison, Tim Kelly, and Fred Storey were announced as National Merit Semi-Finalists as a result of their high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Dr. Sigler informed the student body that 14 seniors were awarded National Merit Letters of Commendation.

The Highlander Band placed second in the Invitational Parade of Champions October 6 in the Cotton Bowl. The band acquired a first division rating at the Hurst-Euless-Bell contest for the seventh straight year.

Scots chose Jayne Williams and Jenifer Glenn to represent Highland Park and University Park in the Dallas County "Miss Flame Contest" at the Fair Park Coliseum. The girls participated in a parade as well as a pageant which recognized Fire Prevention Week.

The Dads' Club hosted College Night October 1 to give prospective students insight into college life on approximately 90 campuses.

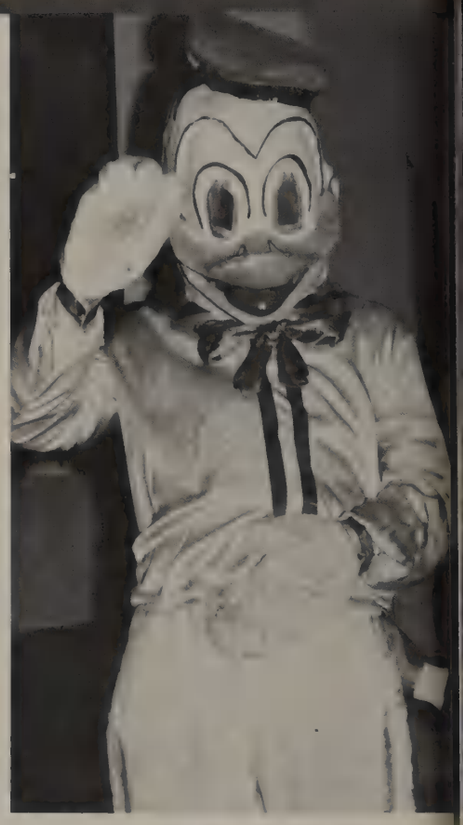

The multimedia production, "Flight Through America," presented by students throughout the Park Cities, provided entertainment with a Bicentennial theme. Miss Lynda Cleveland organized the show which was performed October 21 and 22.

Hi-Lite officers and mothers organized the annual Mother-Daughter Tea at Elaine LaRue's house.

Twelve foreign exchange students visited the Highland Park campus October 15 to celebrate International Day. Refreshments during advisory and a picnic at a neighborhood park afforded foreign students and Scots a chance to become acquainted.

Homecoming 'Fancy Colors' set good mood

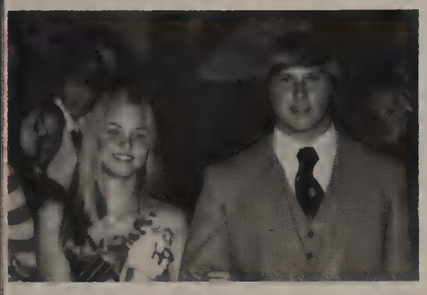

Beginning with a 35-13 Scot victory over Arlington Bowie, Homecoming 1975 truly proved that "This was the Year of Fancy Colors."

During halftime at the game, the Homecoming Queen nominees were driven around the field in convertibles and, with their fathers, were introduced to the crowd. After the game, everyone went to the girls' gym and danced from ten 'til midnight to the music of ex-Scot Tim Doolittle's band, Southern Cross.

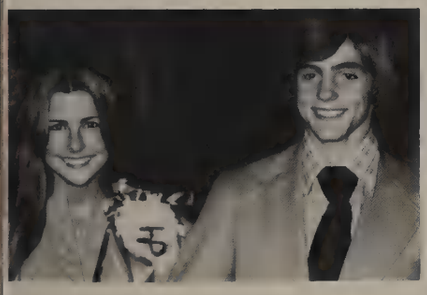

Bright, fancy colors covered the gym decorated with multi-colored flowers, crepe-paper, and balloons. Each nominee's picture took the place of a pot of gold at the end of giant, glittering rainbows.

At eleven, everyone stopped dancing to watch the nominees and their escorts walk down the center of the gym to their favorite songs. Student Council President Hunter Farrell then climaxed the dance by crowning Becky Ray the 1975-1976 Homecoming Queen.

Emphasizing our Bicentennial, students and teachers reported to the south stands of the football stadium at 11 a.m. on November 11. All Dallas-area schools participated in this simultaneous flag-raising ceremony.

Eighteen-year-olds, with the assistance in registering of Mr. John Hanscom and Mr. David McElwee, cast their first votes in the November 4 election.

November 3-7 was designated as Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. Leighton Farrell of Highland Park United Methodist Church and Dr. B. Clayton Bell of Highland Park Presbyterian Church presented two assemblies.

Seniors revealed their talents in their Senior Play production of Jabberwock. Doug Roach portrayed Jamie Thurber, while Cary Baker, Peter Bell, Cary Clarke, Peter Cunningham, Chris Stephens and Laura Worthen filled the remaining lead roles.

The annual bonfire highlighted the end of football season, in spite of the team's 14-10 loss to MacArthur, ending their season with a 5-5 record.

Roundballers opened their season with a 56-50 victory against Bryan Adams.

The Highland Park Speech department came away from the Trinity Tournament in Ft. Worth winning Sweepstakes.

The fall Hi-Lite dance brought couples creatively costumed to the Celebrity Ball. Lucy Thrash, Hi-Lite President, crowned Charlie Quisenberry King after the presentation of the other nominees and their escorts: Peter Bell and Carroll Baker, Tom Goodson and Lee Taylor, David Marlow and Jayne Williams, Brad Martin and Ann Fox, and Joe Morrow and Beth Johnson.

Beaches, mountains, and hunting grounds were vacation spots for numerous Scots during the Thanksgiving holidays.

BELOW: "Now, boys, this is a family secret," hesitates Mary Agnes as she tells Herman (Peter Bell), Roy (Cary Clarke), and Jamie of their Uncle Zenus.

Seniors present life of Thurber in Jabberwock

Absurdity and chaos made up the wacky world of the Thurber family as presented in the senior play, Jabberwock.

Doug Roach played the part of Jamie Thurber, an inquisitive young man forced to conform to the ideals of others. Receiving strength and encouragement from his mother, played by Laura Worthen, Jamie was able to stand up against a cruel and unsympathetic society. Peter Cunningham, who played the part of Jamie's father, was too concerned about the new car, refrigerator and electricity, to understand his son's problem.

Jamie's two worldly-minded brothers, Roy and Herman, were played by Cary Clarke and Peter Bell. The Thurber family would not have been complete without wacky Grandpa Fisher, played by Chris Stephens.
phens.

Director Mrs. Linda Raya had three capable stage managers, Brenda Buchanon, David Feld, and Kathy McDonald who worked "behind the scenes."

Sara Stewart headed the make-up crew, while Elena Martinez performed her duties as house manager. Kim Hankins handled the business side of the play.

Melinda Johnston and Shelley Brandt worked with other members of the publicity crew to advertise the play. Ticket sales head Mary Ann Wales along with Ellen Dennis made tickets available for the three evening performances of November 5, 6, 8 and one matinee on November 7.

Scot finds love, slips off skates at local ice rink

Returning from a relaxed Thanksgiving vacation, students stepped into a schedule full of pep rallies and basketball games.

At the first basketball pep rally of the season, all eyes were on Lee Taylor as she was crowned Basketball Queen by tri-captain Mark Pitzer.

Later that night, the roundballers hosted the twelfth annual Scot Classic. In the championship game Saturday night, the Scots fell to the Hillcrest Panthers, adding to the HP collection a second-place trophy.

The Scots proved they were hot when they traveled to Austin the next weekend to play in the Austin Tournament. Even with all the fans that followed the team, many seniors had to miss the excitement due to ACT exams. The mobs went wild, when in the last six seconds of the final game, Dick Davis scored the winning points to bring home a first-place prize.

Students were soon thinking in terms of red and green as the publications staffs celebrated with Christmas parties. The Highlander staff spent a festive evening at Julie O'Connell's house while Emily and Mary Price hosted the Bagpipe staff.

The Key Club invited E.L.E.C.-T.R.I.C. Y-Teens to spread the yuletide spirit by Christmas caroling with them at the Oak Lawn Nursing Home.

Mrs. Linda Raya's drama classes and Ms. Lynda Gail Cleveland's speech classes performed Christmas programs for clubs and organizations.

Scots used several ways to try to hold out until Friday before the holidays. During advisory, students were treated to a holiday fashion show. Signifying that Christmas was almost here, Lads and Lassies choir caroled down the decked halls serenading sixth period classes. The band provided final entertainment that night with a dance, "Celebrate Christmas," planned by social chairperson of the band, Mary Shouse.

Foreign student comments about her stay

"Everything is so expensive!" exclaimed Dolly Maria P. de la Cruz after shopping at Northpark. Dolly, an American Field Service student from the Philippines, lived with junior Ann Aldredge this year.

In comparing the United States with her country, she found numerous differences. In the Philippines, teenagers date in groups to the movies and picnics unless they are going steady. She adjusted to American food, and especially liked steak, but she missed the spiciness of Filipino food. She also missed the freshness of Filipino food, as opposed to American frozen food.

At her high school in the Philippines, all students were required to wear uniforms, and a strict curriculum was set. She liked being able to choose some of her classes here and reported that in her classes she was "passing at least, and that's what counts." She especially liked chemistry and English.

Dolly enjoyed her year in Dallas. Although Highland Park was bigger than her other high school, she became friends with the students here. Upon returning to her native country, she plans to go to college and perhaps study medicine.

New Year fun pops at parties at stroke of 12

In the midst of recovering from Christmas holidays and preparing for the countdown until February trimester exams, students returned to school.

Five 1975 graduates visited students to talk about college life at University of Missouri, Duke, University of Texas, Hollins, and Vanderbilt.

The speech department travelled to Waco one weekend to participate in the Waco tournament. Highland Park's team returned victorious, taking the sweepstakes trophy.

January also marked the annual announcement of the ROTC princesses. This year's honors went to Sharon Baze, Debbie Baze, Alice Rice, Suzanne Ruby, and Laurie Summers.

Junior Mimi Vornholt won the first-place prize of $100 at the Texas Music Teacher's Association high school auditions.

The annual football banquet provided time for the team and their dates to boast of and toast to their past season. Tommy Koons was named "Most Conscientious Scot," while Greg Becker received the "Forgotten Lineman" award. Both Joe Cavagnaro and Rob Renz were honored as "Fightin'est Scots."

The Career Day Clinic for seniors offered ideas for college courses and career plans. Fourteen different vocations were represented by speakers who counselled groups of students interested in those professions.

The senior class elected Doug Roach as president, to be assisted by vice-president Joe Morrow. Secretary Julie Gilhart scheduled her friends' parties while treasurer Madeline Mayes juggled the books.

Active students slam on brakes for final exams

Despite the approaching pressure of trimester exams, students continued to participate in contests and assemblies during the month of February.

Ushering in brotherhood week, the annual brotherhood assembly featured students speaking on the virtues of humanity.

Seven orchestra members and one choir member were named All-State musicians by the Texas Music Educators Association, and performed in a series of concerts from February 11 to 14 in San Antonio.

Distributive Education students represented Highland Park in Region II competition, resulting in winners in five areas.

Capable Scots express ability in talent show

Pink cards and a talent show gave students an opportunity to express their emotions through the month of February.

Jeff Prather and Missy Thomas tied for first place in the AFS talent show February 6. Other contestants performed singing duets and dances while emcees Reid Slaughter and Chris Norton entertained the audience between acts.

Valentine's Day brought a record number of 8,000 carnations sold and delivered to students in first-period classes through the annual AFS carnation sale.

The Student Council Executive Committee honored the faculty at the traditional Teachers' Tea February 11. The teachers enjoyed cake and punch and received "Northpark Gold" door prizes.

Spirit boosters teach new yells to students

Freshmen, B-team, and varsity cheerleaders "got on the good foot" at SMU's summer cheerleading workshop in August and returned to teach the student body this new yell.

Peter Bell, Valerie Bettis, Adrianne Booe, Louise Houseman, David Kohler, Dayton Macatee, Charlie Quisenberry, and head cheerleader Becky Ray earned a "spirit stick" while learning new cheers at the workshop.

Scot Varsity cheerleaders practiced many hours for weekly pep rallies, helping to promote Super Scot Spirit and enthusiasm. Under the guidance of their new sponsor, Mrs. Susan Guyton, the cheerleaders led the crowds with cheers and chants.

Adding to the spirit were B-team cheerleaders Caroline Free, Gable Frye, Tandy Macatee, Ann Marlow, Leslie Whittington, and Julie Worthen, sponsored by Mrs. Kathleen Burdett.

The eight Freshman spirit boosters, sponsored by Mrs. Sheila Douthit, were Jane Apple, Jeanne Barker, Amy Beall, Ann Carpenter, Dawn Lallier, Paige Nash, Julie Smith, and Winifred Wilson.

Students pick personalities in December favorites election

Students elected eight Highlander favorites from the student body on the basis of personality and popularity. In the December election, all students voted with no restriction on the classification of the candidate. Results of the election were kept secret for publication in the Highlander. Student Council treasurer Ann Fox was a Homecoming Queen nominee as well as Social Vice-President of Hi-Lites her senior year. Ann was also a cheerleader her freshman year and Sophomore Representative-at-large on the Student Council.

David Marlow

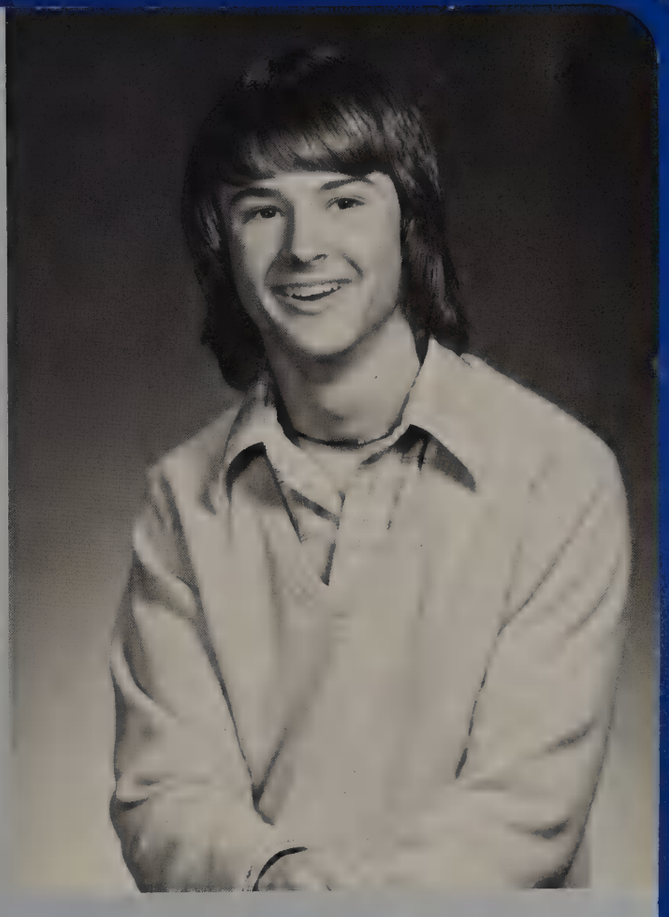

Hi-Lite King nominee David Marlow served on the Highlander editorial staff his junior and senior years. David was a member of the Varsity football team and the Key Club.

Head Varsity cheerleader Becky Ray was 1975-'76 Homecoming Queen. Becky was also a freshman cheerleader. Peter Bell was a Hi-Lite King nominee and a Varsity cheerleader. A member of the Leo Club, Peter served as treasurer of the Student Council his sophomore year and appeared in the Senior Play, Jabberwock.

Members of the Hall of Fame were elected for their outstanding work on the Student Council, Bagpipe, Highlander, and Spirit Committee.

Sponsors of the organizations selected the students in February, although the identity of the members was not revealed until May. Senior members were recognized at the spring Honors Day Assembly, while underclassmen awarded positions were not revealed until the distribution of the Highlander in May.

Maximum Officer's Awards were awarded to the president, vice-president, and secretary of the Student Council and the Co-Editors and Co-Business managers of the Highlander and Bagpipe. Other deserving students received gold, silver, and bronze "H's" for their participation in all four organizations.The bronze "H," a category not awarded in recent years, was reinstated this year.

Administrators receive evaluation, plan for new one-trimester courses

Implementation of the evaluation report of Highland Park High School by Southern Association of Colleges and Schools was the goal of the administrators for the 1975-76 school year.

Dr. E. A. Sigler, principal, outlined plans for the development of new one-trimester courses with the school's change-over to the trimester system this year. With this change came more frequent final examiniations for students as well as more frequent grade reports.

Dr. Sigler also served as chairman of the Science Curriculum Guide, a special project of the school district. In order to acquaint himself with new methods of teaching science, Dr. Sigler attended the Conference for the Improvement of Science Teaching in Edinburgh, Texas during the summer of 1975. He also attended the National Association of Secondary School Principals conference in Washington.

A veteran of 18 years with the Highland Park Independent School District, Dr. Sigler received his doctorate in educations administration, Master of Arts in teaching, and Bachelor of Science in school administration from North Texas State University.

Vice-principals help coordinate new schedules

Exploration of the possibility of exam exemptions for seniors, smooth-working trimester schedules, and better cooperation between students and faculty were goals of the assistant principals of Highland Park High School.

Mr. Joe Koenig supervised activities for 10th and 12th grade students while Mr. Ernie Ritter supervised affairs of 9th and 11th graders. Mr. Koenig served as faculty adviser for the Student Council suggestions committee, worked with the Attendance Office in updating its files, and supervised the English, social studies, foreign language, and music departments.

Mr. Ritter, in his first year at Highland Park, used experience gained at Alamo Heights High School in San Antonio to aid in his specific duties. Mr. Ritter supervised computer coordination for high school students' schedules, worked with coordinating the school calendar, and advised the math, science, electives, health, safety education, and physical education departments.

Mr. Koenig received his B.A. from St. Edward's University and his M.A. in education and his administrator's certificate from the University of Texas. Mr. Ritter received his B.A. in math from Arizona State University, his M.A. in math education from Louisiana State University and his administrator's certificate from the University of Texas at Austin.

Evaluators visit district schools, award approval

"Rising to the challenge of the bicentennial year" was the aim of School Board members during the 1975-'76 school year.

Dr. E. V. Huffstutler, Professor of Education Leadership at North Texas State University, headed a blue-ribbon team of evaluators who visited Highland Park High School for three days in September. This visit is required every ten years to maintain accreditation and membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. For the first time, Highland Park elementary schools applied for membership. In the evaluation, Dr. Huffstutler remarked, "Highland Park High School is a healthy organization and an excellent operation." A public presentation of the evaluation was held in January.

School Board members and Superintendent of Schools Dr. Winston C. Power also took on the responsibility of "holding to the course of improving instruction." Other plans for school improvement were formulated in a self-study by all administrative personnel in cooperation with the School Board.

A major problem faced by the School Board was a desegregation case brought against the district. Hearings in the suit began in December.

The seven members who served on the 1975-'76 School Board were Mr. Walter M. Spradley, president; Dr. Elgin W. Ware, vice president; Mrs. Robert S. Bush, secretary; Mr. Trevor Rees-Jones, finance officer; Mr. Arthur Z. Barnes, Dr. John E. Eisenlohr, and Mr. Lee R. Slaughter.

Faculty, staff enjoy vacations during summer

Relief from the hectic school routine finally found its way to the Highland Park faculty, as the summer months gave administrators and teachers a chance to unwind.

Home improvements captured the attention of many faculty members. Mrs. Pat Sargent added a gazebo, a waterfall, and a fish pond to her backyard. Remodeling his kitchen was a satisfying accomplishment for Mr. Bruce Jeffers. Mrs. Courtney Winniford summed up her summer experiences of cleaning house and gardening as "nothing exciting!"

Not all of the teachers were content to remain at home. July found Mrs. Ethel Forman enjoying the panoramic views in Vail, Colorado, while Mr. Randy Emery made his third annual trip to Las Vegas, winning enough the first night to sustain his three-day trip. Mrs. Debra Heflich ventured to New York City and enjoyed the Broadway shows. Mrs. Janice Willard tried her hand at snorkeling off the Florida coast, making a dive down to a ship sunk in the 1800's. Ms. Jean Henry took up the occupation of a Ranger naturalist in Sequoia National Park, California, leading nature walks and giving sky talks all summer. Mr. William Greer bade "aloha" after a vacation in Hawaii, and Mr. Bruce Orr took a ten-day canoe-camping-fishing trip to Canada. Being caught up in the Nigerian overthrow surpassed Mrs. Doris Plumlee's expectations of her 33-day safari in Africa.

Three teachers found transitions occurred as well over the summer months. Miss Susan Storm became Mrs. Susan Guyton, and Mr. Dave Emler ended his bachelorhood. In July, Mr. Don O'Quinn and his wife became the proud parents of a son.

Newcomers to Dallas were Mrs. Willetta Peckham, formerly of Ohio, and Mr. Larry Miller, native to Louisiana. Journeying from Nashville, Tennessee, was Mrs. Carol Conoyer. Completing the list of new Dallasites was Mrs. LaRell Bissett, who moved from New Mexico.

North Texas State University was the site of summer workshops and courses attended by some Highland Park faculty members. Mrs. Kathy Johnstone and Mrs. Kathy Smith took education courses, and Mrs. Linda Raya worked on a drama degree.

Five teachers studied at Southern Methodist University. Miss Catherine Walters enrolled in tennis lessons for 12 weeks, Miss Reve French studied Shakespeare, romantic poetry, and eighteenth-century literature, and Miss Paula Duckworth took a ceramics course to complete her certification in art. Miss Walters and Mrs. C. J. Hamilton attended a computer school sponsored by the National Science Foundation, and Mrs. H. N. Forman took courses in relations, American history, and government.

Some faculty members shared their knowledge with others. Mrs. C. P. Giles taught Spanish at Mountain View College. Miss Lynda Cleveland led seminars and directed a variety of patriotic shows in Alabama. Mr. Mike Sorrells gave swimming instruction at Northwood Country Club.

Mrs. Danny McElroy added three German courses to her master's degree plan. Mrs. Marlene Stewart studied shorthand and refreshed her typing at Richland College. Math teacher Mr. L. M. Evans attended the Bell and Howell Service School. Health teacher Mrs. Joe Snodgrass, and coaches Mr. Wayne Johnson and Mr. Roger Smith attended a coaching seminar, and choir director Mr. Don Waugh went to a music seminar in San Antonio.

During her stay in England, Miss Cathy Orr attended two courses on England during the Renaissance at Oxford University for six weeks.

Coach raises spirit, introduces Varsity team at first football pep rally

FACULTY

Heeding the siren song of nature, many Highland Park faculty members ventured into the great outdoors this summer. Some teachers went camping or fishing, and others collected plants.

Mrs. Henry Hubbard, Miss Catherine Walters, and Mr. Dave Emler were among several who had "fun in the sun" waterskiing.

Tennis ranked as a favorite of Coach Bo Snowden and Miss Judy Vittetoe. Mrs. Janice Willard plumbed new depths when she took up scuba diving. Mrs. Pat Sargent and Mrs. Carol Conoyer kept up their piano practice, while Miss Paula Duckworth "broke odd sounds on her cello."

Many of the faculty enjoyed relaxing indoors with a good book. Some, like Mrs. Marlene Stewart and Mrs. Reyburn Myers, tried out tempting new recipes. Mrs. William Burdett, Mrs. Mary Dillard, and Mrs. John Guyton sewed, and Mrs. Joe Snodgrass worked on needlepoint projects.

Mrs. Joe Howard discovered new talents as she developed old-fashioned skills in building and refinishing furniture. Math teacher Mr. L. M. Evans tinkered with his ham radio.

Trimester schedules challenged counselors and students as Highland Park initiated the new plan into the school year. The counselors urged students to take electives to broaden their educational background.

Mrs. Barbara Rider helped the freshmen adjust to life at high school while Mrs. Donna Fischer and Mrs. Betty Guest advised the juniors and the seniors on their college choices, emphasizing scholastic opportunity.

Mrs. Mary Hoebeke and Mrs. Winona Pope aided students in the library. Through the use of the microfiche machine and bound periodicals students researched English and history term papers.

Colds, pulled muscles, and headaches were dealt with in the clinic by Mrs. B. J. Snodgrass, who also weighed and measured each student.

Attendance records, report cards, and schedule changes kept Mrs. Robert F. Sargent busy with her computers, while Mrs. Evelyn Dykstra filled transcript requests for college-bound seniors and Miss Mildred Calhoun performed secretarial duties in the principal's office.

"Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow creeps in this petty pace from day to day," thought busy major works English students as the deadline for Shakespeare memory work grew near.

Studying man in relation to his government, junior major works English students read Macbeth, Hamlet, and Darkness at Noon. Other junior English classes read Moby Dick and practiced short story writing.

Freshman English students began their study of Shakespeare by reading The Merchant of Venice. The freshmen also read The Odyssey and worked on research projects.

English teachers made plans to start team teaching in sophomore and senior English classes. In this new form of teaching, some classes would be combined, and selected scenes from Shakepearean plays would be performed by Mr. Dennis Day, freshman and sophomore English teacher, in an effort to make drama in literature come alive.

Seniors in Advanced Placement English put on a production of King Lear and had a question-and-answer game on the life of William Shakespeare. Mr. Day came to AP English classes and enacted scenes from Twelfth Night.

English students portray Caesar, present projects

Continuing their practice in writing, other seniors worked on research projects of their choice.

First-year speech students were introduced to entertaining, persuasive, and informative speaking. Miss Lynda Cleveland sponsored the speech team in several tournaments.

Speech students also produced "Flight Through America," a salute to the American Bicentennial, and presented "Charlie Brown" and "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" at the Children's Medical Center.

Students interested in improving their reading skills and those with difficulties in reading enrolled in Developmental Reading and Speed Reading.

Drama students presented plays for the four elementary schools, and advanced drama students visited Southern Methodist University to tour the theater.

Students in Journalism 1-2 studied newswriting, advertising, and editing. They learned to produce a newspaper, and each student completed an entire front page.

A new option offered to seniors this year was the substitution of the third trimester of English with a course in either writing, college reading, or modern literature.

Algebra students create projects, program computer for extra credit

Adjusting to the new trimester system, the mathematics department offered two courses each of trigonometry and functions, allowing students to choose their combination.

During the first and third trimester, Mrs. C. H. Hodge taught students the different types of trigonometric functions. Pupils of Mrs. Kathleen Burdett learned the practical application of analysis during the second and third trimesters.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Gloria Hamilton, twelfth-grade calculus theoreticians struggled with the concepts of ancient mathematicians.

First-year algebra students strove to understand inequalities and factoring while second-year students proceeded with logarithms and functions.

Major-works algebra students of Mrs. Gloria Hamilton learned how to prove logic problems by means of the computer. Mrs. Hamilton required her students to present creative projects to the class. Tessellations and comparisons of chess to modular arithmetic added a deeper insight of algebra to students.

Geometry pupils learned that definitions, postulates, and theorems come in handy in the everyday uses of geometry.

Biology students identify dicots; ecology classes beautify courtyard

Molecular structure, genetic traits, and the electromagnetic spectrum were three major topics studied by science students this year.

Physical science and chemistry classes devoted the early part of the year to mastering the metric system and the slide rule. Major works students enrolled in physical science and biology participated in the county-wide Science Fair.

Students in the ecology class, a new course this year, renovated one of the cement courtyards with flower boxes and shrubbery. The students also took field trips to Turtle Creek to compare water and soil samples and to a water treatment plant to observe the purification of our drinking water.

Biology, chemistry, and physical science classes spent several hours in the lab each week. During this time, the students did projects such as blood typing, dispersing light, and observing molecular bonds in compounds. Physics classes researched the uses of electricity in their lab work.

Major works chemistry students concentrated on the physical and modern theoretical aspects of the science, including experimental research, while the major works physics class did independent research on dynamics in the spring.

Fourth-level students read Don Quijote and also acted out the Spanish equivalents of Aesop's fables. Third-level classes studied Spanish culture and read short novels, while first and second-level classes concentrated on grammar and vocabulary.

German students enjoyed a trip to the Dallas Music Hall, where they saw the Civic Opera's production of the German opera Tristan and Isolde. Inspired by the fine acting in the opera, third-level classes worked on grammar and improved their command of the language by playing vocabulary games.

Working at their own rate with the aid of earphones, Latin students learned that the study of an ancient language increased their English vocabulary. First and second-level classes studied mythology and Roman life, while the third and fourth-level classes read ancient Roman works.

Third-level French classes studied "L'Horla" and L'Etranger, as the fourth-level class read Le Petit Prince and French poetry. First and second-level classes concentrated on grammar and vocabulary.

Guest speakers, slide presentations, and outings to exotic restaurants highlighted some of the activities of social studies classes.

Mrs. Doris Plumlee's Asian studies classes traveled to area restaurants, where students were taught the techniques of eating the foreign delicacies. As part of the unit on India, students talked with a native Indian and his family on the customs of the country today. The course activities also included a speaker from the S.M.U. School of Theology who presented slides on Shintoism.

World history classes saw films and slides and prepared panel discussions to aid the students' understanding of history. The classes saw films illustrating life in Russia and Africa and concentrated on the history of the Americas as an appropriate observation of the Bicentennial year.

Mrs. Sheila Douthit's American history classes prepared oral histories on World War I and the depression. This technique involved students in interviewing people who lived during the historical period. Mrs. Douthit also supervised a new research course in which 11 students perfected their skills in writing papers.

Government students give talks while history classes take quizzes

The government classes of Mr. David McElwee concentrated their study on the significance of civil rights cases and the Constitution. Students reviewed major court cases in relation to the Bill of Rights. Economics teacher Mr. Jimmy D. Lee focused his teaching on supply and demand and consumers' rights.

Mr. Donald Brown, a new member of the social studies department, taught history and advanced placement American history. His students sharpened their discussion techniques and practiced debate in the class for juniors and seniors.

Talented Scots show creativity in art, electives

Talented Scots developed their creative abilities through electives in the fine and practical arts.

For the first time in the history of Highland Park boys were permitted to take homemaking classes. The coed food and nutrition classes practiced preparing economically balanced meals and proper nutrition. Students in sewing practiced their skills in tailoring, as they whipped up Christmas presents, wrap-around skirts and slacks.

Art class enrollment also reflected a historical "first" as more students than ever before enrolled in upper-level classes. The artists refined their creativity and artistic senses by sketching, painting, weaving, and working with clay. Some of the best designs and executed projects were on display in show cases outside the art room throughout the year. Clay-sculpture pieces featured simple detail with a colorful and carefully-done glass finish. Hand-loomed masterpieces included wall-hangings, scarves, and pillows.

Scots enrolled in woodshop built stereo cabinets, gun racks, coffee tables, and other useful things, using table saws, drill presses, and sanders.

Members of the Highlander Band practiced their instruments all through the year to play in competition and at Scot football games. The band placed second at the Parade of Champions in October and received first division ratings in University Interscholastic League and Bellhurst competitions.

Lads and Lassies rehearsed their entries for UIL and all-state competition and sold candy to raise funds for their projects.

Mechanical drawing students learned to draw angles, measure distances, and sketch three-dimensionally. Some of these students were considering careers as engineers or architects.

Students in typing and shorthand learned to type and take notes quickly and efficiently for business letters and themes. Typing classes celebrated the holiday season by typing "pictures" of Santa Claus and his reindeer.

Business law and elementary accounting students became acquainted with some of the basic principles of running a business, which included corporation contracts, bank statements, and balancing books.

Hi Park's physical fitness program was expanded to include co-educational physical education. Students who enrolled could take team sports, lifesaving, or racquet sports.

The girls' gym classes tackled such activities as speedball, basketball, volleyball, softball, and swimming. The run-walk program, physical fitness tests, and tenniquoits also kept the girls occupied.

Boys' gym classes played basketball, soccer, softball, and football. Completing the list of activities were wrestling, swimming, ping-pong, physical fitness tests, and the run-walk program.

Health classes learned about diseases, the effects of alcohol, drugs, nutrition, and the five senses. Special speakers, current events studies, and visual aids helped the students in learning how to care for their health.

Students in Safety Education learned in 32 hours of classroom instruction about situations they would encounter in driving, effects of alcohol and drugs, and the importance of vision in driving. After completing 12 hours of driving and observing before school and during his study hall, a student was ready for the drivers' education test.

Members of the ROTC conducted school-wide fire drills, and practiced marching and marksmanship for the drill and rifle teams. Members also studied some basic techniques and principles of first aid, weapons, and map strategy.

Candle-lighting initiates students in honor society

Students outstanding in scholastic achievement, leadership, character, and school service were eligible to be elected to the National Honor Society.

The names of juniors and seniors with a grade point average of 7.0 or better were submitted to teachers for evaluation in each of these four areas. Each teacher rated those students he knew on a scale from one to eight. Those scoring an average of 7.0 or more were initiated into the society.

Fourteen were welcomed as members in a candle-lighting ceremony November 25, joining 44 seniors elected in their junior year.

NHS sponsored the Blanket award, presented at the honors assembly to one graduating boy and girl for outstanding achievements in leadership and scholarship.

Members of the organization nominated Hunter Farrell and Julie O'Connell to represent Highland Park in a nationwide competition for 225 National Honor Society scholarships for $1000 each.

A party was planned in the spring to honor new initiates.

President Julie O'Connell, vice-president Mary Moyer, secretaries Fred Storey and Beth Johnson, and treasurer Jane McKie handled the club's affairs, with the aid of Mrs. Cloriene Barrett.

Trimester system delays initiation of new Quill and Scroll members

New Quill and Scroll members were not initiated until March due to the new trimester system.

The qualifications for membership were work on a publications staff for a minimum of two trimesters, rank in the upper third of one's class, and approval by the respective sponsor. Since ranks in class were not available until the beginning of the third trimester, new hopefuls had to wait to apply.

Old Quill and Scroll members held a progressive hamburger dinner in February to celebrate the conclusion of exams. Mrs. Reyburn Myers served as the club's sponsor.

Business managers increase sales in spite of higher production costs

An upward trend which has characterized Highlander sales for several years showed sales closing at 1,411 copies in spite of a price increase made necessary by spiraling printing costs.

Sales were held the week of October 6 but were then extended to October 22 for the procrastinators, allowing 82 per cent of the student body to make purchases.

Deadlines throughout the school year required the presence of staffers at weekend work crews, where they wrote copy, scheduled, organized and cropped pictures, and completed layouts.

Beverly Bell and Kathleen Slaughter, heads of the Highlander business staff, recruited 21 members to finance the yearbook by selling ads to Dallas merchants and businessmen, parents of Highland Park students, and student groups.

The veterans of the staffs determined that all the time and effort were worth it when they received an "A+" rating from the National Yearbook Association for the seventeenth consecutive year. But work was forgotten during the Christmas party and spring publications picnic.

Bicentennial features highlighted the bi-weekly issues of the Bagpipe. Feature articles on the Bicentennial restoration at Old City Park and on the Mayflower ancestors of Highland Park students added to the celebration of the nation's 200th birthday.

Members of the Bagpipe staff paid further tribute to the country by presenting the official Bicentennial flag to the high school. It was raised for the first time on November 11 at Highlander Field.

Times Roman type and revision of the layout to a more horizontal style gave the Bagpipe a new appearance. The editorial page gave Scots more opportunity for free expression with a Student Council column written by Student Council Representatives and letters to the editors included in each issue.

Discussion club attends movies, enjoys breakfast

Movie-going at the University of Dallas at Arlington and breakfasting at White Rock lake were among the October activities of Highland Park's discussion group, the Round Table.

Round Tablers, accustomed to discussing the ins and outs of all issues, found points of agreement at the annual initiation breakfast October 8 as they tackled a non-controversial menu of scrambled eggs.

Sponsor Miss Reve French, president Bonnie Beavers, and secretary Luci Smith met bimonthly with the club's 25 members to debate local and national problems. Topics open for discussion spanned a wide variety of subjects, which included New York's financial crisis, the integration lawsuit filed against the Highland Park Independent School District, abortion, and euthanasia.

Tartan art board selects drawings for 1976 book

In preparation for the January 26 deadline, the Tartan literary board began choosing selections from more than 100 submissions of poems, stories, and art.

Heads of the editorial board were Tam Willard and Laura Hanley. Luci Smith was in charge of the business board. A pay assembly and letters to prospective patrons helped to raise the needed money. The magazine went on sale at the P-TA and Dads' Club Open House in March.

The boards, literary staff, and business staff were supervised by Mrs. Dorris Warburton while Mr. James Carter and Mrs. Mattie Childress sponsored the art boards. Mrs. Reyburn Myers supervised the production side of the magazine. Assistant principal Mr. Ernie Ritter helped with publicity on the announcements.

Leo Club officers organize project, help needy family

Leo Club members aided local charities through proceeds from worthwhile service projects.

The Leo Club was sponsored by the Inwood Lions Club and Mr. Charles Dexter. School sponsors Mr. Wayne Johnson and Mr. Dennis Day supervised the 60-member organization which met on alternate Thursdays.

The group, consisting of selected members from all grade levels, collected cans in December to help a needy family in the Dallas area.

The club's annual ping-pong tournament, scheduled for the spring, offered skill and competition to boys from all grade levels. A February garage sale helped to raise money for the Heart Fund. The Leo Club also had a bowling tournament in October.

President Cary Clarke led the club along with vice-president Ricky Lafitte. Dayton Macatee served as secretary while Doug Roach handled finances as treasurer.

The Board of Directors, consisting of Sam Manning, David Gowdey, Brad Martin, David Corrigan, Tony Dewar, and Chris Norton, also included Newt Walker as honorary "tail-twister."

Future teachers sponsor meeting of recent grads

Getting teaching experience and learning along with their pupils, club members from Future Teachers visited Bradfield and Hyer Elementary Schools and taught students from kindergarten and first grade lessons in art, reading, and mathematics.

Club members also sponsored a tutoring project held at the Church of the Incarnation. Joanie Harris and Becky Rainwater assisted at the tutoring sessions that were held on Wednesday afternoons to help elementary students in the second through fifth grades with their reading and vocabulary skills.

In addition to practicing their teaching skills, the club members worked for school service. They sponsored a homecoming of recent Highland Park graduates in January. Ten Highland Park grads met in the library with students to discuss their college experiences and offer advice to graduating seniors concerning academics and aspects of social life on college campuses. Representatives from such schools as Duke and Texas visited the students.

Members discuss scripture verses in huddle groups

Members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes shared viewpoints and beliefs concerning the major role Christianity played in their lives.

"Huddle Groups" consisting of eight or nine members discussed topics such as how to use their athletic ability to God's best interest and how to be an effective witness for Christ.

Guest speakers Murray Gossett and Dr. Rick Herscher told how they applied Christianity to daily life.

President Charlie Quisenberry, vice-presidents Scott Smith and David Wideman, secretary David Marlow, and treasurer Tommy Koons planned activities with the aid of sponsors Mr. Bo Snowden and Mr. Wilburn Echols.

Key Club officers attend luncheons, sponsor projects

Leadership and planning for the future were the topics of a speech presented by Mr. Homer Stewart, vice-president of Republic National Bank, at the Key Club leadership breakfast in November.

In December the Key Club and E.L.E.C.T.R.I.C. Y-Teens went Christmas caroling.

The Model School Assembly in March dealt with problems that are imminent in present day society. At the annual Key Club-faculty basketball game in the spring, Kathy Little was crowned Key Club sweetheart.

President Michael B. VanAmburgh, vice-president Peter Cunningham, secretary Tommy Koons, treasurer Jon Sills, and sponsor Mr. J. B. Lee headed the 27-member all-male club.

'Celebrities' visit Hi-Lites fall fling, elect club's king

Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'Hara, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, Jay Gatsby and Daisy Buchanan, and Shazam and Wonder Woman were some of the famous couples at the Hi-Lites "Celebrity Ball."

The Big Sister-Little Sister picnic started off the school year for the all-school girls' club. Martha Miller and Rod Pirtle entertained along with the cheerleaders and Hi-Lite officers at the picnic.

The annual Hi-Lite tea for all girls and their mothers was held in the home of Elaine LaRue in October.

Program vice-presidents brought a variety of programs for Thursday mornings. The programs included singers, dancers, and karate experts.

The Welfare vice-presidents organized a program to help the Dallas Suicide Prevention Center, while the Red Cross committee made Christmas stockings and Easter baskets.

Hi-Lite dances were held in November and March, when the boys are traditionally asked by the girls. Charlie Quisenberry was crowned Hi-Lite King at the November dance.

Spirit Committee holds workcrews, plans bake sales

Workcrews began early in the summer for Spirit Committee member. Everyone was busy making signs to support the athletes of the coming year.

Ann Chandler, Sandi Sparr, and Doug Jumper, who had been elected as Spirit Committee heads took shifts going to workcrews to help invent slogans and design and paint signs to decorate at pep rallies.

Fund-raising projects paid for the streamers, balloons, and paper which would be used to decorate the gym. These projects included a bake sale in the summer, and the sale of bumper stickers to the students.

Mrs. Gynne Manson, sponsor, started the year by making lists of the workcrews everyone was to attend.

After many high-level discussions and investigations of the materials available, style-conscious girls changed the Spirit Committee uniforms to wrap around skirts and matching striped blouses. After these uniforms were delivered, the Spirit Committee was ready to give its support to the athletes of all three trimesters.

Spreading Christmas cheer, the orchestra and choral departments joined together to present "Christmas 1975" to the PTA and Dad's Club. On December 13, orchestra members met at the home of Cathey Symonds to celebrate the Yuletide season.

Orchestra students participated in the University Interscholastic League solo and Ensemble competition February 7 and then attended the Texas Music Educator's association convention in San Antonio, February 11-14.

Parents were invited to the orchestra concert at Open House on March 17. The following day the students attended the UIL concert and sight-reading contest. Orchestra members also spent March in rehearsal for the musical "South Pacific," which was presented March 25, 26, and 27.

Highlighting the year was a trip to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi in April.

L & L receives requests to perform throughout entire metroplex area

With a majority of sophomores and juniors for the first time, the Lads and Lassies choir began preparing early in the summer for the upcoming school year.

The first concert for the choir was at the 1975 Baccalaureate service in May. As school started in August, members found patriotic music and three major works to be prepared for fall concerts.

The Christmas season proved even more hectic with concerts during school hours and at night. Among many performances, the choir caroled for the Park Cities Rotary Club, the United Methodist Women's Club, and the Dad's Club. The schedule concluded with the annual caroling at homes of several teachers followed by a party hosted by Tab Boyles.

Several choir members achieved superior ratings in the University Interscholastic League Solo and Ensemble contest in February, advancing to state competition in June. Six singers were selected for the All-Region choir in October, and Jon Sills was chosen as the first Bass in the All-State choir finals in January. The entire choir participated in regional choir competition in March.

a back-to-school swimming party hosted by Doug Webb. In late September, a "Famous Pairs" costume party and picnic at Winfrey Point attracted several Bonnies and Clydes. The pot luck banquet was held in early May with a dance following and the new officers for 1976-1977 were announced. Lads and Lassies also sponsored a midnight movie to raise money for banquet expenses.

Seniors' majority in Highlandaires follows concert, party schedule

Highlandaires choir boasted an enrollment of 39 girls with a majority from the senior class.

Officers planned several parties beginning with a swimming party in August. After the October 9 half-time show at a football game, a second party followed, and a progressive bike supper was held in April.

Christmas brought many activities for Highlandaires. They caroled at One Main Place, entertained visitors at the Kappa holiday homes tour, and sang for the Caruth Rehabilitation Center and Highland Park Presbyterian Church. They ended the Christmas season by caroling to favorite teachers and shut-ins.

Concerts kept the choir busy beginning with a joint-choir Christmas program on December 17. May 1 brought a concert previewing music for the University Interscholastic League Contest February 7 and the state contest at Austin, May 29.

Early in the year Highlandaires sold candy to help boost the budget.

Junior Cynthia Mahaffy served as President, aided by vice-president Alice Spradley, treasurer Chris Rather, secretary Becky Biggers, historian Tori Thomas, and librarians Julie Vaughan and Ann Aldredge. Section leaders included Tori Thomas, Alicia Martinez, Meg Morgan, and Kathy Leake.

Revelaires sell Halloween treats, schedule bike-hike, party

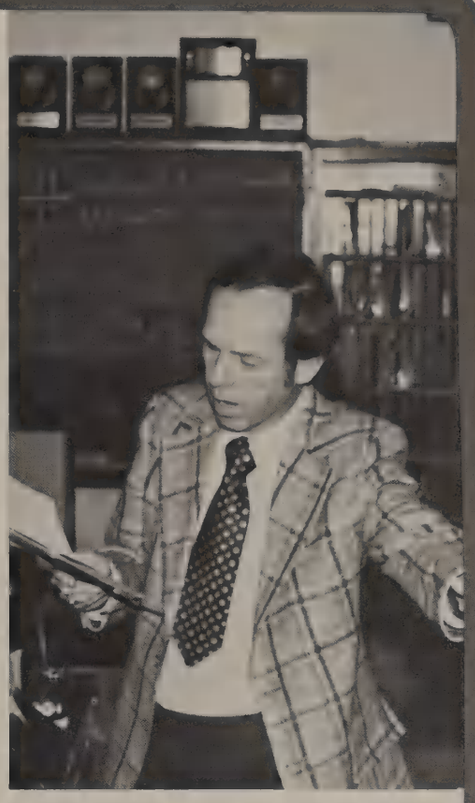

"Trick or treat" was the theme of the Revelaires choir fund-raising project. The choir sold orange cards for Halloween messages. During first period classes on Halloween day, they were passed out with bags filled with "tricks and treats."

Early in the fall, the choir worked together in a progressive bike dinner. Later in the season, Revelaires choir joined with the other choirs and the band to perform during the half-time at a football game.

Spreading Christmas cheer, the choir caroled at a Northpark department store. One evening they also sang for teachers and shut-ins, relaxing at a Christmas party afterwards, where they exchanged "gag" gifts.

Choir members were involved in the lengthy process of rehearsals for South Pacific. Three-hour rehearsals were scheduled almost daily for more than two months.

Many members participated in the University Interscholastic League Solo and Ensemble competition. In March, the choir competed in the UIL Concert and Sightreading contest.

This year, the freshmen and sophomores outnumbered the juniors and seniors. Leading the 36 choir members were officers Holly Hares, president; Ann Chandler, vice-president; Mary Hogg, secretary; Elizabeth Cantwell, treasurer; Beth Hook and Elizabeth Trent, librarians; and Simone Myers, historian.

Choralaires practice music pieces, prepare for February competition

Spreading Christmas cheer, members of Choralaires caroled to shut-ins, grandparents, and neighbors of students before they adjourned to Gena Hanley's home for a party.

The girls' choir, consisting of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, practiced solos and trios in preparation for the University Interscholastic League competition in February.

Choir members participated in the music department's production of South Pacific by working on the make-up and wardrobe crews.

President Gena Hanley managed the choir projects while Cathy Bass planned parties as vice-president. Secretary Beth Kelly took roll and collected money. Pris Shytles served as treasurer and handled fund-raising projects. Librarian Kimberly Cozby sorted sheet music, and historian Melissa Mahaffey compiled a scrapbook of the year's activities.

Sandy,

They were awarded a "I" rating at both the University Interscholastic League marching contest and the Hurst-Euless-Bedford marching contest. They competed with other bands at the Cotton Bowl to receive second place in the Parade of Champions contest.

Many members went on the annual trip to Salado to perform at the Scottish fair. A Veterans' Day parade for the student body and several flag-raising ceremonies were also scheduled.

The ROTC band actively participated in parades and competitions with the ROTC drill team. The Boogie Brigade, Highland Park's novelty music group, continued its antics at several pep rallies, complete with a dancing bear, a mummy, and other unusual characters.

Seven band members earned seats in the All-Region bands. Seniors Tim Kelly, Paul Patterson, and Rick Rohr, and junior Ruth Copeland placed in the Senior High All-Region band. Freshmen Gary Armstrong, Burns Cooper, and Sarah Pierce made the Junior High All-Region band. Tim also received sixth chair in the All-Area band.

Lassies perform in Scottish kilts, pipe, dance for football half-times

Twenty-seven Lassies, clad in authentic Scottish kilts, learned the art of bagpipe playing and Scottish dancing to perform with the band.

Besides participating in every varsity football half-time show, the Lassies attended events away from school, where they exhibited their talents and skills. The Sale Street Fair, an Eastern Star convention, and a performance at the Middle School were on the Lassies' agenda.

For the second time, a group of Lassies entered the University Scholastic League Solo and Ensemble contest as a special ensemble where they received a I, and competed this spring at the state competition in Austin.

Leadership was provided by Lassie Commander Debbie Kern, Pipe Major Julie Cain, Dance Major Kelli Wilson, and Pipe Sergeants Stephanie Woodruff and Patty Ellisor.

Travel Clubbers tour fascinating foreign countries

Traveling through talks and pictures, the Travel Club visited several fascinating parts of the world such as Africa, Alaska, and Mexico.

Liz Race told her fellow members about her thrilling adventures in Africa. Liz spent several weeks on an African Safari last summer.

In October, Gray-Leigh Wilson pointed out the great cultural differences in the United States by offering the club an a account of life in Alaska. Gray-Leigh's father travels to Alaska twice each year on business and Gray-Leigh thinks that Alaska is a nice place to visit but is glad she lives in Texas.

Mexico was a popular topic in the Travel Club with José Sainz and Sarah Hosford reporting on our southern neighbor. Both José and Sarah visited Mexico City and tropical resorts Puerto Vallarta and Acuapulco. José and Sarah are both looking forward to returning to Mexico in the near future.

American Field Service exchange student Dolly de la Cruz presented a Christmas for the club with music and refreshments. Marilyn Roark accompanied Dolly in their interpretation of Christmas in the Philippines.

David Cornwall presented a picture presentation of Colorado, where he skied over the Christmas holidays.

Miss Cathy Orr, an English teacher at Highland Park, presented a program on England. Paul Rush described the beautiful mountains of Scandinavia; and Heather Fitzenhagen displayed jewelry.

Mrs. Doris Plumlee sponsored the Travel Club. José Sainz and David Cornwall shared the presidential duties. Marilyn Roark and Barbara Giles kept minutes as Paul Rush and Amy Titus covered foreign affairs.

Thespians act out well-known plays for club members

Increased interest was developed in Thespians this year as indicated by the number of new members. Initiation for National Thespians was held December 10, with 22 new members joining. Students were eligible to become chapter members in this organization only after having first attained ten points through their participation as ushers, crew members, and actors in various dramatic activities in the city.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Linda Raya, and with the leadership of Holly Hares, president; Laura Worthen, vice-president; Elena Martinez, secretary-treasurer; and Chris Rather, clerk; the club met every first and third Wednesdays for activities. The Thespian leaders staged programs to usher in the year, such as the presentation of a Bicentennial Show by the North Texas State University drama department and a talk about dancing by Mrs. Raya's student teacher, Joanne Skelton.

After the business of the meeting was concluded, volunteers used their creative talents in impromptu acting. These dramatists also combined their skills in pantomines and games such as charades.

Reader's theater proves new facet for speech team

Boasting the only undefeated ecord in competitive events in the chool, the speech team, sponsored ıy Miss Lynda Cleveland, earned the ıost sweepstakes in every tourna-ıent in which it participated.

Members of the National Forensic eague began their season by hosting n invitational tournament at the igh school and middle school. owards the end of the fall trimester, ıe speech and ROTC departments ıined in presenting "Flight Through merica," a Bicentennial production.

The speech team came out on top gainst the area's toughest competition in the Trinity, Irving MacArthur, and North Mesquite tournaments. In early January, the team travelled to Waco for a two-day contest.

Reader's Theater, a new facet of production for the speech department, was used frequently throughout the year. During the Christmas season, three separate groups performed a Reader's Theater production of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" to more than 40 area hospitals and rest homes. In April, the department presented "Up the Down Staircase" in Reader's Theater form for their spring show.

AFS members help themselves at holiday party

Scots welcomed Dolly Maria P. de la Cruz, the 1975-1976 American Field Service exchange student from the Philippines, Dolly was junior Anne Aldredge's "sister" for the school year.

Sales of AFS bonds and Valentine carnations plus proceeds from a talent show and Friday assemblies provided the money needed to bring Dolly to Highland Park High School.

At the first general assembly of the year, Pat LaRocca, a 1974 graduate of Highland Park High School, spoke to juniors and seniors about his year's stay with his AFS "family" in Paris, France.

Students from Finland, South Africa, Sweden, and several other countries spent a day visiting classes at Highland Park and concluded the day with an All-American wiener roast.

Council members decorate shelves, work at counter

Library assistants reminded fellow students that the knowledge contained in books is only useful as it becomes available to the reader.

Sixteen aides received credit in library science the first trimester. The library aides were assigned certain sections of the library to decorate. The Library Council members combined their efforts to create window displays and bulletin boards befiting the seasons or dealing with literary themes.

These student aides, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Hoebeke, Mrs. Winona Pope, and Mrs. Marlene Stewart, helped frustrated students locate their material in the library. The student librarians were responsible for shelving books and working at the check-out counter.

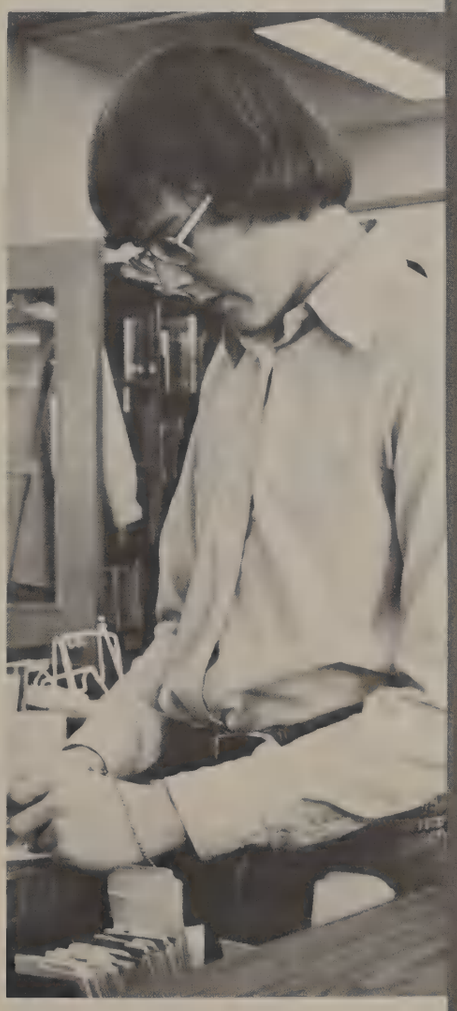

These students also assisted in the magazine room and with up-dating the card catalogue. All library aides also served on the Library Council under the sponsorship of Mrs. Hoebeke and the leadership of Patti Moon as president and Jane Rike as secretary-treasurer. The Library Council maintained the organization of the library and its orderly circulation of material.

DECA members host delicatessen, win competition

As the value of the dollar declined, the benefits of extra money attracted students to the Distributive Education Clubs of America. DECA members found that the extra money along with on the job training provided them with experiences that would help them in later life.

In area competition, prior to DECA state competition, Highland Park students won two firsts, two seconds, and a seventh in areas such as display, retail jewelry, industry and advertising.

To raise money, DE students operated the DECA Deli during the Highland Park Speech Tournament. The Deli provided students competing in both the high school and the middle school with food and refreshments during lunch breaks.

Health Careers invites speakers to club meetings

Service projects of the Health Careers Club included films on cancer and mental health.

Bi-monthly meetings featured guest speakers in the medical field. A psychologist presented several medical opinions on mental health, and a dentist told of hygiene techniques.

Special films were reviewed by the club on cancer, alcoholism, and retardation. The film "It Could Happen to You" provided members with safety tips for daily living.

Club members supported the American Heart Association by distributing information to students during advisory period. Pamphlets reviewed students on the heart and its diseases.

President Calli Brannon, secretary-treasurer Amy Mims, and historian Anita Bagnall led the team in projects which the club planned for Children's Medical Center.

Sponsors Mrs. B. J. Snodgrass and Mrs. H. Hubbard offered advice to club members wishing to enter a health-related field.

Biology Club sponsors assemblies, decorates courtyard for holidays

Biology Club members discovered that sponsoring film assemblies during advisories is a good way to raise money for field trips.

The courtyard in the biology wing was decorated by club members during Christmas and Halloween seasons. The club toured Southwestern Medical Center.

President Nancy Gardner, vice-president Leslie Lehman and secretary Barbara Gailes presided over the club with the aid of Co-sponsors Mrs. Ethel Forman and Miss Susan Hall.

Guest speakers and math contests highlighted the activities of Mu Alpha Theta meetings.

Highland Park faculty members Mr. Donald O'Quinn and Mrs. Gloria Hamilton addressed the club.

Twelve Math Club members entered the Dallas Baptist College math contest February 21. Several students also participated in the February 28 Math Contest. In March, the club members participated in the Number Sense Contest. Throughout the school year, club members practiced for the March 9 Mu Alpha Theta exam which would decide the members of the United States Math Olympic Team. Even after a strong showing on the Mu Alpha Theta exam, none of the club members qualified for the United States Math Olympic Team.

Jenny Parker served the club as president. Other officers were Ellen Dennis, vice-president; Dayton Macatee, secretary; Shelley Lord, treasurer; Robert Neely, historian; and David Claman, parliamentarian. Mrs. Gail Gately was sponsor for the first two trimesters until she left Highland Park and moved to Illinois. She was replaced by co-sponsors Mrs. C. H. Hodge and Mrs. Chris Bardo.

Spanish Clubbers enjoy bake sales, visit restaurants

Spanish skits, bake sales, and visits to the local Spanish restaurants attracted members to the Spanish Club. Sophomore, junior, and senior Spanish students attended meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Meetings provided equal balance of education and entertainment. Skits performed by officers aided the members with Spanish vocabulary.

Clubbers feasted on homemade Spanish dishes during the annual Christmas party, Spanish carols and games rounded off the festivities.

Organizing club activities were president Jeanie Smith, vice-president Betsy Booziotis, and secretary-treasurer Sharon Wright. Sponsors Mrs. Eleonora Guzman and Mrs. Kathy Johnstone helped officers keep club meetings in order.

SPQR members issue challenges to language clubs

While athletes performed in the Winter Olympics in Innsbruck, Austria, Latin Club members participated in the miniature Olympics at the regional convention of Latin clubs in February.

The agenda for the convention included contests in Roman literature, mythology, and basic knowledge of the language. This regional meeting expanded into the state convention, where Highland Park students competed with other students from all over Texas.

Boasting 43 members the Latin Club met twice a month. Consuls Chris Hewitt and Susan Raines directed the meetings while Brad Powell planned the programs with help from sponsor Miss Sharon Hooper. Other officers were Nancy Watson, scribe, and Brenda Buchanan, quaestor.

Energetic club members organized team sports and challenged the German Club, Thespian Club, and Spanish Club to classic combat in football and basketball. The year's activities ended with the annual Roman banquet, where members dressed as Romans and served Roman food, or a reasonable facsimile of it.

Photography club learns technique, equips darkroom

Photography club members purchased darkroom equipment to mprove developing techniques.

Dues collected at the first of the school year enabled essential equipment to be purchased for the completion of the school darkroom. Students interested in photography had the opportunity and the materials to develop black and white prints.

Members who already had a knowledge of advanced photographic procedures helped those less experienced in the club, giving them new angles in the limitless possibilities in photography. This instruction included techniques in developing film and in shooting and mounting pictures.

The club, led by seniors Mike Hicks, president, and Bill Griffin, vice-president, and sponsored by Mr. James Carter, held meetings on second and fourth Wednesdays. The club members' outside activities included a tour to a processing lab.

Cadets raise flag, work at radiothon for charity funds

Started in 1925, the Highland Park unit of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps commemorated America's two hundredth anniversary with the raising of a Bicentennial flag at an all-school assembly November 11.

ROTC cadets also participated in a number of activities, including a drill exhibition for Hi-Lites and a radiothon benefiting the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital.

Officers Jeff Prather, Robert Grammer, Collins Brookey, and David Rardin prepared companies A, B, C, and D for inspections. These included the weekly and six weeks inspections, along with the annual Federal Inspection April 9.

Both the girls' and the boys' drill teams spent hours after school practicing formations. During competitions, they drilled to the music of the ROTC military band under the leadership of drum major Paul Paterson to set the pace.

ATHLETICS

BATTER RANDY HOLMES and catcher Stan Keith present a modern edition of a great American pastime.

Scots whip foes in early season, lose last games

After 11 months of strenuous training and lengthy practice sessions, Highland Park emerged from the 1975 football season with a 5-5 record and the first winning season for a Scot football team since 1972.

The Scots won five of their first six games, but tougher competition and nagging injuries forced Hi Park to lose the last four games of the season.

Junior quarterback Scott Smith piloted the offense which averaged 17 points per game. Junior halfback Marc Snyder rushed for close to 1,000 yards for the season, staying close behind the blocking of a strong offensive line consisting of Greg Becker, Rob Boyle, Bruce Hunt, Allen Reese, Dinnie Sloman, and Greg Sims.

Highland Park exhibited a strong passing attack throughout the year as quarterback Scott Smith connected with Mike Collins, Tommy Koons, and Dick Thorpe for sizable gains.

Despite the strong offensive efforts exhibited by the Scots, the most impressive part of the team was the defense. The Scots gave up no more than 19 points in any one game, and allowed an average of only 11.7 points per game.

The defensive line, often playing against much larger opponents, played hard-nosed football in keeping enemy runners at bay. Seniors Joe Allen, John Eckeberger, Jim Joiner, and Joe Morrow led the line charge, while Joe Cavagnaro, Robby Peck, and Jim Thomas filled the gaps from their linebacker positions.

The defensive backfield, though plagued at times by injuries, did a capable job in combating enemy air attacks. Led by seniors John Beecherl, David Marlow, Brad Martin, and Stagg Renz, the defensive backfield kept their opponents from long gains.

Footballers win against Paschal, fall to Arlington

In their first game of the season, the Scots traveled to Fort Worth, where they used a powerful offensive attack and a staunch defense to defeat Forth Worth Paschal 31-14.

Junior tailback Marc Snyder ran around, over, and through the Paschal defense, gaining 173 yards in 22 carries. Snyder accounted for 25 of the Scots 31 points. The defense, headed by Joe Allen, Joe Morrow, and Stagg Renz, held Paschal to only seven first downs and 162 yards total offense.

Capitalizing on early Hi Park mistakes, Paschal moved out to an early 14-0 lead. The Scot offense, which had been sluggish throughout the first quarter, began to take control in the second quarter, totally dominating play for the remainder of the game.

Hi Park brought its 1-0 record back to Highlander Stadium on September 19, opening district play against the Arlington Colts. The game proved to be a defensive battle as the Scot defenders did not allow any points, but Arlington blocked a punt in the end zone in the fourth quarter to capture an 8-7 decision over the Scots. Hi Park's offense was ineffective for most of the night, scoring only once on a run by Marc Snyder.

With cries of "Get a Gopher" ringing through the stands, Hi Park entered the Gopher Bowl for a September 26 encounter with the Gophers of Grand Prairie High School. The Scots were in control throughout the game, defeating the Gophers by a 34-12 score.

Junior quarterback Scott Smith piloted the team to a 14-6 halftime lead, and the Scots added three second-half touchdowns en route to an easy win. Flanker Mike Collins caught five passes to bolster the Scot scoring efforts, while a strong defense, held the Gophers in their holes throughout the night.

The win moved the Scots' record to 2-1 and left them with 1-1 mark in district play.

Dedicated Scots achieve victory in early games

Riding on the heels of Irving MacArthur in the race for the district 7-AAAA crown, the Scots plowed their way through the middle portion of the season, garnering victories over Irving, Arlington Lamar, and Arlington Bowie.

Against Irving, the Scots played consistent football to gain a 13-7 win over the Tigers.

Halfback Marc Snyder led the offensive attack again, gaining 166 yards on 16 carries. Quarterback Scott Smith had a good night passing, completing 7 of 12 passes for 132 yards.

The Hi Park defense held Irving to only seven points for the evening. Tommy Koons, Brad Martin, and Robert "Moon" Mullins led the defensive charge which held Irving to only 216 yards for the evening.

With their record now 3-1, the Scots returned home after two weeks on the road, defeating previously undefeated Arlington Lamar by a 14-6 tally.

Highland Park's defense played an enthusiastic, hard-nosed game, allowing Lamar's Vikings only six first downs for the evening. John Eckeberger and Jim Thomas made outstanding plays, thwarting Lamar's offensive efforts for the night. Lamar's offensive advances were contained even further by punter Ronnie Hilz, whose long and accurate kicks kept the Vikings far from the Scot goal line.

Next on the schedule was a Homecoming encounter with Arlington Bowie, the cellar-dwellers of District 7-AAAA. The Scots overcame a sluggish first quarter to rout Bowie 35-13. Trailing 13-7 at half-time, the Scot offense found its groove in the second half, scoring four times en route to an easy win.

Scot footballers finish year with winning record

Hi Park's win over Bowie, coupled with Arlington's upset victory over district-leading Irving MacArthur, left the Scots in a four-way tie for the district 7-AAAA lead as they prepared for the final four games of the season.

This position quickly disappeared, however, as the Scots dropped a 10-0 decision to Arlington Sam Houston. The local offense failed to gain yardage consistently and managed only one serious scoring threat, which fizzled out on the Sam Houston three-yard line.

District hopes faded further the next weeks as the Duncanville Panthers eked out a 14-13 win over the Scots. The Scots led by a 13-6 margin as the fourth quarter began, but a strong Panther offense, headed by junior quarterback Mark Gibson, marched down the field to score with five minutes remaining in the game.

Duncanville then made a successful two-point conversion to walk away with a one-point victory over the Scots. Hi Park's offense rolled up another 200-yard rushing day, led by Marc Snyder, who gained 70 yards on the evening.

For their next encounter, the Scots returned home to face the Irving Nimitz Vikings. Hi Park massed a strong offensive attack throughout the evening, but the Scot defense had a hard time containing Nimitz running back Lynn Miles as he rushed for 197 yards, leading Nimitz to a 10-13 win. Nimitz jumped to a 19-0 half-time lead, but the Scots returned from the intermission almost pulling the game out of the fire.

In their last game of the season the Scots lost a 14-10 decision to Irving MacArthur. The Scots led 10-7 going into the fourth quarter, but MacArthur scored once in the final stanza and held on for the win. Sophomore Ben Norwood kicked a 38-yard field goal to account for three of the Scot points, and Jim Thomas scored Hi Park's final touchdown of the season.

Scot B-teamers finish season with 6-2-2 tally

Behind the strong arm of junior quarterback John Percy, the Scot Junior Varsity ran up a 6-2-2 record for the season.

The opener against J.J. Pearce saw a tightly-played 6-6 tie with sophomore John Turner returning the kickoff for 95 yards. Against Grand Prairie the next week the B-teamers took a 34-16 win highlighted by sophomore Ben Norwood's 35-yard field goal. The J-V then beat Irving 18-15 before losing to Arlington 12-6. They rebounded against Arlington teams, defeating Lamar 18-7 and Bowie 26-7.

Sophomore Chris Herndon rushed for more than 100 yards to lead the Scots to a 35-20 win over Duncanville followed by a 21-7 trouncing of Nimitz.

The B-teamers closed their season by dropping a 17-13 decision to Sam Houston and tying MacArthur. Leading rushers for the B-team were sophomores John Turner with 497 yards; Chris Herndon, 903 yards; and Russ Walker, 370 yards.

Other outstanding players for Coach Cecil Holmes were sophomores Ben Norwood, Mike Sandifer, Robby Teel, Tommy Reynolds, and Robert Neely, and juniors Pat Gormley, Chris Apeland, and John Percy.

Freshman team starts quickly, plays proudly

A combination of Freshman talents led the young Scots to a 5-4-1 record.

In the season opener the freshmen beat Irving MacArthur 25-18. Highlighting the game was Lott McIlhenny's 51-yard touchdown.

The Scots fought a 0-0 standoff with Arlington Bailey followed by a 6-0 won over Irving MacArthur, then dropped a 14-0 game to Duncanville, rebounding to beat Grand Prairie 26-0.

The next two games saw the young Scots trounce Grand Prairie 28-12 but lose to Irving 45-27.

The freshmen closed out their season dropping a 20-14 decision to Irving MacArthur plus another loss to Duncanville 24-0.

Lott McIlhenny finished the season with a total of 1,167 yards. Other outstanding players for Coach Don Richardson were John Allums, Dean Miller, Steve Rogers, Steve Thomas, and John Thompson.

Varsity Scots gun their way to 27-9 mark

Gaining more than 20 victories for the seventh consecutive year, the Varsity basketball team finished the season with a 27-9 record and a 13-5 mark in district play.

Led by captains Dick Davis, Rod Pirtle, and Mark Pitzer, roundballers employed a high-strung, fast-break style of offense which averaged 63.5 points per game. Rod Pirtle and Kyle Dodd led the team in scoring, averaging 16.5 and 14 points respectively.

Coach Bo Snowden and assistant Tom Shelton used frequent substitutions to keep his players fresh and rested throughout the games. Most of the Scots saw action in every game.

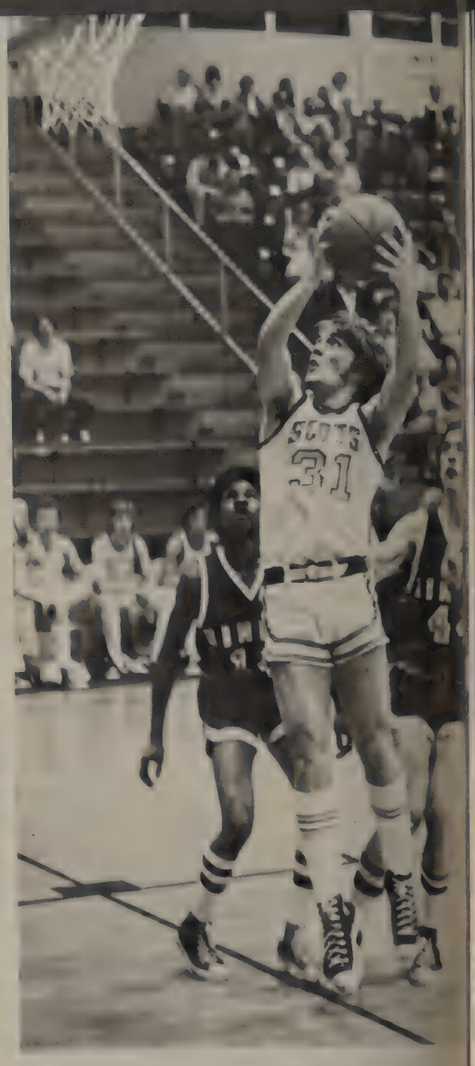

The key to the roundballers success came in the defense. Hi Park allowed only 56 points per game, ranking first in the district in the points-allowed department. Postman Jay Heimburger led the team in rebounds, stretching his 6'6" frame to garner 12 rebounds per game.

Falling three games behind the pace set by district champion Arlington Sam Houston, the Scot roundballers ended the season with a third-place district finish.

Highland Park started the season strongly by capturing six of the first eight games, including a second-place finish at the Scot Basketball Classic.

The varsity basketballers carried their strong play to Austin the next weekend as they captured the first-place trophy at the Austin Invitational Basketball Tournament, defeating teams from the Austin area enroute to the tournament crown. The wins in Austin moved the Scots' record to 11-2 and ran the roundballers' winning streak to five straight victories.

The Scots' efforts were hampered throughout the season by an overall lack of height. Highland Park often gave away as much as two inches per man to opposing teams. Through hard work, dedication, and skill, the Scots did an efficient job overcoming this drawback.

After returning from Austin, the varsity roundballers ran into some tough sledding as Christmas vacation rolled around. Highland Park dropped an encounter with the Arlington Colts in the district opener for both schools. The Scots then entered the Pepsi Classic, one of four sponsored tournaments run simultaneously in the Dallas area over the Christmas holidays. In this tourney, Highland Park gained wins over North Mesquite and Sherman before being eliminated in the third round.

Returning to action after the holidays, the Scots faced a steady schedule of district foes. The varsity roundballers continued their winning ways with a 7-2 record in the first half of district play, leaving the Scots only one game behind Arlington Sam Houston as they prepared for the final nine games of the season.

Hopes for a district championship faded, however, as the Scots dropped three straight games, but Highland Park captured all of the final six games to finish the year with a 27-9 record.

'B' team Scots end year 28-5 to win district

Running away with a 28-5 season record, the "B" team Scots won the district 7-AAAA championship.

The young Scots compiled a 15-2 district record, losing only to Irving High School and Arlington. Billy Allen averaged 18.6 points per game to lead the roundballers in scoring while Glenn Kimmel chipped in 16 points per outing. Jeff Barnes, Kevin Slaughter, and Tommy Woolum also were standouts for the "B" team.

The freshman Blue Scots ran their way to a 23-5 record. Supervised by new coach Dave Emler, the Blue roundballers were led by Lott McIlhenny, Whit Smith, and David Milliorn. Throughout the course of the season, the Freshman Blue squad was never defeated by more than five points in any one game.

The freshman Gold team, coached by Wayne Johnson, finished the year with a 17-11 season record. The team was led by Davie Davis, Dean Miller, and Steve Thomas.

In the Blue-Gold game at the end of the year, the Blues had the last word by defeating the Golds 49-40.

Harriers obtain 7-AAAA trophy in repeat win

Capturing its second consecutive district 7-AAAA championship, the cross country team ran through the cold and rain of winter to place well in area competition.

The Scot distancemen ran 8 to 15 miles daily at the White Rock Lake course in preparation for their victory at the district meet, which was held November 22 at Arlington's Vandergriff Park.

Junior Emeric DeGall paced all Scot runners at the District meet, placing fourth out of a field of 50 competitors. Neil Bremner was close behind in sixth place, followed by Steve Peters, who finished eighth. Bobby Bullington, Howard McClean, Neil McShane, and Whit Stricklin also contributed to the Scots' winning effort.

At certain times during the year, there were only six members on the varsity cross country squad, but the distancemen proved again and again that ability overshadowed numbers as they gained strong finished thoughout the year.

Girl tracksters race at meets for district title

Seven members of the girls' cross country team entered the state track meet in Austin December 13, where the top five Highland Park girls placed, and the team placed ninth overall.

Debbie Peters, Lisa Tinkle, Erin Porterfield, Laura Jordon, Cathy Goetz, Lucinda Lowry, and Lynne Walker travelled to the meet, where Erin, Laura, Lisa, Cathy, and Debbie placed. The cross country team won the district race at the Arlington meet November 22, placed second at the Castleberry meet in Fort Worth November 15, and took first place at the White Rock Lake meet in October. By running solidly at the Third Regionals meet in Arlington December 6, the top three runners went on to the state meet.

The track team members competed in sprints, relays, and field events. The track season opened February 28 with the Irving Invitational meet at Irving High School. This meet, the hardest of all the team's competition, hosted teams from as far away as Amarillo.

The 18 girls on the track team elected Cathy Goetz captain. Mrs. Sally Fowler served as coach and sponsor for the group.

Late February marks opening of track season

February 21 marked the opening of the season at the Bishop Lynch Invitational, where David Wideman placed third out of 18 competing teams in the long jump.

With eight returning cindermen, the track team practiced daily under the leadership of captains Richard Allums and David Hallum. Due to the remodeling of the SMU track, head coach Jim Mouser led the team in workouts held in Highlander Stadium.

During competitions, Steve Peters and Richard Allums specialized in the pole vault while Philip Sandifer excelled in the hurdles and mile relay. Also running well for the team was Emeric De Gall in the mile run.

The team culminated the season with the state meet in Austin.

Coach Don Richardson led the freshman track team during workouts with the Varsity.

Baseball team defeats Jesuit in early game

Early scrimmage victories were the goal of HP's smallballers. With captain and shortstop Stan Keith hitting a homerun, the Highland Park smallballers defeated the Jesuit Rangers in the first inter-school scrimmage of the season.

After their 6-4 victory over the defending champions for the Texas Catholic Interscholastic league, the Scot varsity squad and Coach Cecil Holmes viewed the 1976 season with optimism.

A February 24 scrimmage against Garland netted the Scots a 2-2 tie, though they were defeated in their second encounter with the Jesuit Rangers February 28.

In early season scrimmage and warm-up practice, Randy Holmes, the other varsity captain, displayed pitching talent. Returning lettermen Robert Harris, Randy Holmes, Stan Keith, and Greg Patterson were slated as starters along with "B"-team veterans Dean Flowers and Mike Mott, and new recruits Mike Collins and Scott Smith.

The Scot "B" squad also started out the season with an early scrimmage victory rolling to a 5-4 victory over the Garland Owls.

The Junior Varsity under the direction of Coach Orville Jones practiced daily as did the varsity team for district play beginning March 1.

Tennis teamers attempt to gain 7-AAAA crown

Returnees to the tennis team totaled 16 this season with only 7 new players joining the roster.

Coach Nancy Duncan felt that the boys' team was the stronger team with six returning lettermen. The number-one player, junior Reid Freeman, captured the Cotton Bowl Tourney on New Year's Day. Sophomore Susie Low was number-one singles player on the girls' team.

At the Regional Tournament October 31 and November 1, the racqueteers defeated both the Wichita Falls Junior Varsity and Burkburnett High School. In the semifinals, Highland Park defeated Wichita Falls Rider High School and advanced to the finals to defeat Wichita Falls High School.

At the state playoffs in Abilene, the team finished fourth, defeating Abilene and Houston in the first round, but losing in the semifinals to Alamo Heights of San Antonio in sets, 12-19. In the consolation round, Highland Park lost to Roosevelt High School of San Antonio.

Matches with area high schools were scheduled throughout the remaining season with special tournaments in March and April. Regionals were held in April in Denton, and in May the state tournament was held in Austin.

Scot swimmers practice, attend early workouts

Early-rising swimmers began before-school workouts in November to prepare for upcoming meets.

Competing in their first meet of the year, held at Loos in Richardson on November 29, the girl swimmers defeated Norman High School and W. T. White High School.

Swimmers from the boys' and girls' teams participated in the Texas Intrascholastic Swimming Coaches Association pre-Christmas invitational December 12 and 13. The girls placed first, and the boys won fifth place at the competition among teams from most of the high schools in the North Texas area.

Earning first-place honors in the backstroke, Janabeth Lynch had a time of 1:04.1. The team of Stephanie Lane, Kira Rathjen, Janabeth Lynch, and Beth Goodwin placed first in the 200-yard medley relay event.

Hosting a meet held December 19, the Scots were victorious, with the boys defeating Plano and St. Mark's, and the girls placing over Plano.

Highland Park also defeated J. J. Pearce and Lake Highlands in a dual meet January 7. Under the coaching of Mike Sorrells, the team prepared for the Regional meet at the end of February and the State meet in March.

The team was led by Captains Cary Clarke and Beth Goodwin.

Scots gain win in early season tournament

Playing with strong consistency, the golf team swung its way through the 1975-76 season, gaining high finishes in all of its pre-season tourneys.

Led by captains Sam Manning and Tim Crowley, the Scots practiced daily at the Dallas Country Club in preparation for two early-season tournaments and a long spring schedule which culminated with the district and regional tournaments in April.

In their first tournament of the year, the Hi Park swingers traveled to the Shady Valley Country Club where they captured the first-place trophy at the Arlington Golf Classic, Tim Crowley and Rick Jones led the Scots with matching rounds of 76. Their scores were closely followed by those of Sam Manning, Bill Bywaters, and Mike Stuart, who shot rounds of 77, 78, and 80. These consistent scores gave the Scots a combined team total of 387, far ahead of all other competition.

In their final tournament of the winter tour, the Scot golfers traveled to Fort Worth November 18 to compete in the Castlebury Invitational Golf Tournament. Senior Tim Crowley led the team with a five over par 79 on the challenging course at the Singing Hills Country Club. The Scot golfers finished in fifth place out of more than 20 teams competing in the Castlebury tourney.

Coach Gerald Everett, a physical education coach at the middle school in the mornings, came over to the high school in the afternoons to direct the activities of the golf team.

Pigskin players break records in intramurals

"Pigskin prowess" described the team led by Kevin Collins in intramural football competition.

The Collins team captured the championship with an undefeated 5-0 record. They established new scoring records in the intramural program with an average of 42 points per game.

Intramural sports planned for the spring were postponed due to the loss of two faculty sponsors, part-time assistants who resigned during the school term.

Spring activities were scheduled to include soccer, softball, volleyball, basketball, and tennis for students interested in the extra-curricular sports program.

VARSITY CAPTAINS JON Sillers and Tom Goodson hope for a winning season on the soccer field as they lead the Scots into competition.

Showing a great deal of improvement in their second year of organized competition, the Soccer team opened the 1976 season capturing three of their first five games, under the leadership of Coach Mike Robertson.

An overabundance of players and talents forced the Scot soccer team to expand to a junior varsity team. The attendance at the games doubled from last year as the games were more exciting and the sport had grown more popular over the year.

Practices were held in the afternoon with exercises, running sprints and practice games quickly filling the two hour sessions.

Scots started off the season with two victories over Sherman and Denton. In the Sherman game, John Beecherl was dismissed from the game due to an altercation with a member of the Sherman team. Bruce Holtman displayed his exceptional talent during this game. In the Denton game, Bruce Holtman scored two goals while Tom Goodson and Heath Coker each scored one goal. The team then suffered defeats at the hands of R. L. Turner and Lewisville.

Co-captains for the Varsity soccer team were Tom Goodson and John Sillers. David Gowdey and Doug Webb led the Junior Varsity squad.

Leading scorers Heath Coker, Bruce Hultman and Tom Goodson with assists from other players, quickly added up the team's points.

Beautiful forms offer new goal for senior girls

Reconditioning bodies after a long summer vacation proved to be a high-priority objective of students during the first trimester of girls' physical education.

All the girls started the year by preparing to take the President's Physical Fitness Test. Many girls scored highly in the arm-hang, softball throw, shuttle-run, 50-yard dash, sit-ups, and broadjumps. The upperclassmen then launched into conditioning exercises while freshmen and sophomores swam and jogged in the run-walk program.

The trimester program opened many more areas of physical education for the girls. Each girl could choose either regular girls' physical education or several types of coeducational sports.

By the end of the fall trimester, all the girls had played speedball or hockey. The seniors also had a chance to have concentrated teaching in tennis and other racquet sports.

Sports contests develop skill, physical fitness

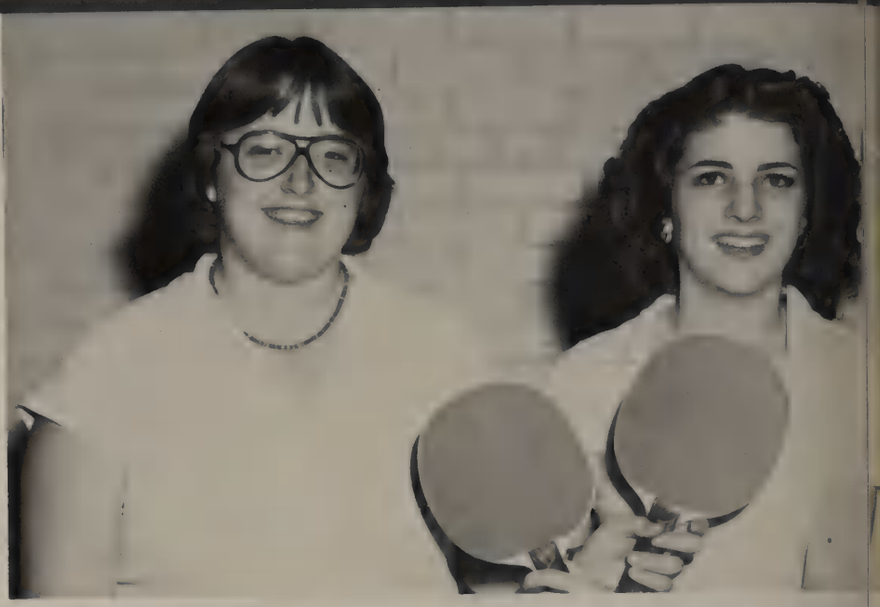

Under the new trimester plan, girls' physical education classes furnished a different schedule of sports. Class tournaments in volleyball and basketball offered an opportunity to learn new skills.

Freshman girls were able to take only one trimester of physical education as they were required to have two trimesters of health. Their activities included physical fitness tests and the run-and-walk program. They donned tank suits and splashed in the natatorium for three weeks during their unit of swimming.

Sandy,
I really enjoyed getting to know you this year in English. It was really fun cheating off of Taylor. Hope to see ya this summer. Lott and you make a fantastic couple and I hope ya'll have a fantastic summer.

Spring season puts volleyball on class agenda

Second trimester physical education for sophomores began with conditioning exercises to tone up muscles, followed by basketball and volleyball. The third trimester included softball and square dancing.

Juniors rolled into the second trimester with softball. Their agenda also included volleyball and ended with tenniquoits. Third trimester offered a chance to play badminton and ping pong.

Seniors practiced such skills as spiking, serving, and setting up the ball during volleyball competition. The second trimester also offered basketball and conditioning exercises. Badminton and rhythm drills ended the third trimester.

Girls organized intramural teams to play on Mondays and Thursdays. Mrs. Gynne Manson sponsored the afternoon games, which consisted of ping pong, tenniquoits, and basketball. Badminton and softball intramurals concluded the year.

Studious new Scots discover library skills, utilize card catalogue

FRESHMEN

TOP: Faced with upcoming English projects, Drew Spies and Becky Farmer find the card catalogue a helpful source.
ABOVE: "Why does it always happen on a Monday?" wonders Jamie Holloway as his books fall at his feet.

Thrilled by the whirl of new clubs, classes, and social activities, freshmen were the first incoming class to experience the trimester system.

During Howdy Week, lucky Robyn Young discovered Super Scot Spy Steve Rogers, and Mary Ann Bell and Phillip Hillis were named "Friendliest" at the Howdy Dance.

As heads of the Ribbon Committee and Freedom Foundation Scrapbook Committee, freshmen representatives Pris Shytles and John Allums led their class in Student Council activities.

Freshmen sports were supported by enthusiastic cheerleaders Jane Apple, Jeanne Barker, Amy Beall, Ann Carpenter, Dawn Lallier, Paige Nash, Julie Smith, and Winifred Wilson. Ninth grade girls helped boost spirit by decorating lockers, rooms, and houses of team members.

To gain extra credit in health classes, freshmen joined the Health Club, which offered interesting movies and speakers in the medical field. Round Table accepted Susan Cleaver as the only one of many freshmen applicants. American Field Service, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and Hi-Lites also attracted ninth grade interest.

SOPHOMORES

After a seemingly short summer, the sophomores of 1975-1976 returned to find they no longer suffered the constant taunts of upperclassmen as they did when they were freshmen.

Summer travels and jobs provided Highland Park students with fun summers. Lee Ann Brown, Cathy Bass, Becky Ballard, and Beth Kelly journeyed to the Bahamas and Southern states with their church on a choir trip. Hunt Blair worked on lighting at Dallas Repertory Theatre, Patty Weiss was a chair assistant in a dentist's office, and Gable Frye and Ann Marlow were waitresses at a local restaurant.

B-team cheerleaders Gable Frye, Caroline Free, Tandy Macatee, Ann Marlow, Leslie Whittington, and Julie Vorthen attended SMU cheerleading camp in August, where they were warded a spirit stick for "spirited" chievement.

During "Howdy Week," Leslie Whittington discovered the identity of Super Scot Spy Leslie Little, and Buck Cowan and Cissy Hudson were voted as "Sophomore Friendliest."

Lisa McElroy and Chris Bell served as sophomore representatives on the Student Council, and Ben Bell and Julie Holloway served the cause of justice on the Student Court.

Choir students John Bateman, Rebel Blackwell, Joey French, Malone Hardcastle, Lois Hexter, Bart Irby, Bill Saunders, and Clay Weber hit the right notes to win membership in the Lads and Lassies choir.

Ann Bunten, Beth Kelly, Tandy Macatee, Richard Neely, and Tammie Thompson made it their business to sell ads for the Highlander.

Newly-elected officers organize spring prom scheduled for May 1

Heated enthusiasm warmed up to hot fun in the summertime for 415 juniors before the routine of school crept up in late August.

Students traveled worldwide to escape the Dallas summer heat. Mollie Garrett pedaled through the French countryside. Closer to home, Joan Hodges and Debbie Kirby rode their bicycles more than 200 miles to Shreveport, Louisiana.

Carol Cleaver and Snowdy Leftwich were announced Friendliest Juniors at the Howdy Dance September 23. Sara Stevenson won ten dollars for discovering the identity of Junior Scot Spy Carol Cleaver.

Junior officers were elected in September to plan and finance the Junior-Senior Prom slated for May 1. Assuming the position of president was Lockett Stewart, along with Vice President Richard Sparr, Secretary Susan Aston, and Treasurer Scott Davis.

Scott Smith and Jimmy Johnston represented their class for the third consecutive year as Student Council representatives. Pat Gormley was elected parliamentarian, and Dorothy Dickson served on the Student Court.

Junior strength on the Varsity football team stretched to 25 while 39 other class members showed their support on the Spirit Committee.

Susan Aston and Delaney Murchison served as associate editors of the Highlander, as 25 juniors put their talents to work on the editorial and business staffs of the yearbook. The Bagpipe editorial staff accepted 12 juniors, and four others joined the paper's business staff.

Officers plan activities, prepare for graduation after January election SENIORS

"OLD SPORTS" JAY, Jordan, Nick and Daisy, alias Doug Roach, Julie Gilhart, Joe Morrow, and Madeline Mayes, wait for the "green light" of graduation.

"Spirit of '76" seniors prepared for their final year of high school, expecting more frequent exams and schedule changes with the new trimester system.

Tom Bartholow, David Claman, Paul Davison, Tim Kelly and Fred Storey qualified as National Merit Semi-Finalists, while 14 others received Letters of Commendation. The National Council of Teachers of English in its annual contest recognized former student Linda Rupert as an outstanding writer.

AFS student Dolly de la Cruz from the Philippines enjoyed life in America while staying with the Aldredge family.

Cast and Crew members of the Senior Play "Jabberwock" included 30 seniors while 28 seniors participated in the production of "South Pacific."

National Honor Society initiated 52 seniors who had been evaluated on grade-point average, leadership, character, and service. A candlelight ceremony initiated them.

January marked the date for senior class officer elections. Doug Roach served as president and Joe Morrow was named vice president. Secretary Julie Gilhart organized senior activities and treasurer Madeline Mayes took care of finances for the 394 members of the graduating class.

Academics, jobs, parties ready privileged girls for graduation festivities

SENIORS

Changing to the trimester system did not alter the active calendars of senior girls.

Graduating girls worked at a variety of jobs to earn spending money. Julie Gilhart sold cookies at a local bakery. Elizabeth Haughton, Ivy Halford, Ann Revelle, and Pam Bradford practiced their selling techniques at local clothing stores.

Athletic senior girls were active in swimming, tennis and track.

Academically-talented Gayle Braecklein, Cindy Davidson, Sherry LaPrade, Kathy McDonald, Margo Meek, Karen Morgan, and Katherine Zimmerman received National Merit Letters of Commendation on the basis of tneir Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test scores.

Senior girls filled positions of leadership with Beverly Bell, Barbie Goetz, Beth Johnson, Julie O'Connell, Emily Price, Valerie Rees-Jones, and Kathleen Slaughter heading the publication staffs. Kay Cory, Becky Farrell, Ann Fox, and Laura Worthen held high positions on the student council. Laura was also named third runner-up in the Miss Teenage Dallas Contest.

End-of-school activities for seniors included dances, teas, and luncheons, as the arrival of letters of acceptance from colleges started plans for next fall.

Interests of active boys include various hobbies from falconry to football

LEFT: Working with his falcon, Chuck Lundberg wonders if it will eat his hand or the meat it will be awarded.

Senior boys remained actively involved in numerous activities during their final year at Highland Park.

All-State choir judges named Jon Sills the number one bass in the state. Competing against about 1,000 contestants, Jon sang for All-Region judges, area judges, and then All-State judges. Tab Boyles was also named to the All-Region choir.

Unusual hobbies included Chuck Lundberg's interest in falconry and Weldon Moore's bike racing.

Last summer, Kelly Gallagher won fourth place at the Sons of the American Revolution national finals in Boston after delivering his speech, "The Light of Freedom."

District 7-AAAA coaches named Joe Allen, Joe Cavagnaro, Mike Collins, Jim Joiner, Brad Martin, and Rob Renz to the first and second All-District teams.

The male leads of the senior play, including Peter Bell, Cary Clarke, Peter Cunningham, Doug Roach, and Chris Stevens, dominated the performance of Jabberwock.

This gift was embodied in a mythical ring belonging to a hero, Ogier the Dane. Ogier's ring not only removed the wearer's infirmities; it also restored his youth. Try your Balfour class ring 50 years from now. Maybe it can do the same.

Village Cadillac

The Standard for Service.

Exceptional. Exclusive. Uncompromised.
Service equal to Cadillac, the standard for the world.
The finest automotive service is a Sewell tradition...the quality of service only dedication and years of experience can produce. And today, as always, the emphasis at Sewell is on extra personal attention to your needs as a Cadillac owner. No other Texas Cadillac dealer offers all of these 5 special services:

- We provide the Sewell Reservation System, which allows you to reserve a service date and time, and specify your service requirements in advance. Simply call 526-8505.
- Our service department is open all day Saturday.
- We give you 8 free oil changes with your new Cadillac.
- A car is available, for a small charge, when yours is indisposed.
- We deliver your car after servicing, for a nominal fee.

We treat you like a Cadillac owner.

What happened to all our good times?

EDITORIAL

A TRUE FABLE FOR TODAY

Once upon a time, not so long ago, a big, beneficent government discovered that birds called trumpeter swans were having trouble coping with the modern world. Their numbers were dwindling. They were downright disadvantaged.

So naturally, the government (not ours) decided to take care of the swans. It gave them all the things a swan has the right to expect—food and shelter and tender, loving care.

Today there are plenty of trumpeter swans. But they're still a problem. The swans have grown so accustomed to government taking care of all their needs that they no longer know how to take care of themselves.

Now a few flocks of the swans are going to be relocated to see if they can learn to take care of themselves again.

Moral: What swans trumpet, let men heed.

Sandy, See year has really been a ton of fun being in highschool and all. I really wish you and I could have been in more classes together and done more together. Study Hall was the biggest blast and I loved being with you. I know that for awhile you and I weren't on best terms, but I'm really sorry. I'm so glad we aren't anymore and I hope that this summer you and I could become even better friends than last year. Sandy you're one of the sweetest girls I've met, and I hope to keep in touch this summer. Stay as cute as you are because you're super special. Love ya, Hoda.

We don't know how we did it, but it's true . . .

Volume 53 of The Highlander was printed in offset by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The 328 pages are printed in 20 16-page signatures and one 8-page signature, smyth sewn, with headbands. 1450 copies were printed, using 80-pound enamel paper.

Body type throughout the book is 10-point Optima, leaded 2 points. Identifications and captions are set in 8-point Optima, with no leading. Body type in the introductory section, on division pages, and in the concluding pages is 14-point Optima, added 2 points. Headlines are Optima Bold, usually 24 point except the introductory and concluding pages, where 30 and 36-point Optima Bold Italic are used.

On the cover the type face is an artist's version of Rome type, and on the title page and division pages Rome type has been photographically enlarged. Label heads in the faculty, senior, and underclassmen sections are 60-point Quentin Tactype, some set in reverse, on 50 and 30 percent gray panels. 18-point Optima Bold headlines are also reversed or overburned on these panels. In the Student Life, Academics, Organizations, and Athletics sections a modular style layout has been used with a 70 percent gray band.

Colors used in the book are Marine Blue and a special yellow, PMS 109. On division pages the background of the left pages is 30 percent Marine Blue with captions, copy, headings, and the bands around the woodcuts in 100 percent. The backgrounds of the woodcuts are 50 percent Marine Blue. The right pages of the division pages are 50 percent yellow tintblocks over photographs printed in black in steel etching technique.

Reproductions of antique woodcuts on introductory, division, and conclusion pages are non-copyrighted material from the Dover Archive.

The cover is yellow sailcloth on # 15 binder's board, letterpress printed in Marine Blue. Endsheets are 70 percent Marine Blue with the design printed in 100 percent Marine Blue.

Portrait photography and most group pictures of organizations and athletics are by Bradley Photographers. Kincaid Photo Services developed the black-and-white film and made the prints. Four-color prints were developed and printed by Custom Color Corporation.

Our special thanks to Mr. Jim Alexander of Taylor Publishing Company for advice on layout and cover design and to our Taylor representative, Mrs. Kay Giese.

Sandy,
Sister-d know that last year when we were the great friends it was the stranded thing. d really hope that this summer we can get together and do a lot of stuff. Let's be total crazy and maybe "cook it" a little. O.K.? stuff.
love ya!

BELOW: The Freedom Train captures the spirit of the past and the present.
CENTER RIGHT AND FAR RIGHT: Jeanie Meador and Joan Hodges wonder if Uncle Sam really wants them, as Jimmy Johnston wonders if he could be a star.

Sandy,
Well, it's been a long, hard year. Too bad it's over (J.K.)
I'll miss ya' this summer.
I hope that we can be in some classes together next year.
Maybe we'll get our Spanish class again next year. That would be great.
At least we don't have any more tests!
Maybe we can do something this summer!
See ya' later!
Love always,
Beth S.

Freedom train brings exhibits for Bicentennial

When a group of far-sighted patriots put into words and action their dreams for the future of this nation, few people on either side of the Atlantic would have cared to place bets on the outcome of their optimistic experiment.

Today many of the dreams have come to pass, although perhaps not in the exact manner that those planners of 1776 might have expected.

Including several Texas stops on its nation-wide Bicentennial tour, the American Freedom Train arrived in Dallas in late February. As more than 70,000 citizens filed through the cars of this traveling museum of Americana, reminders of some of the most significant events in the history of our nation brought the past vividly to the present.

If history communicates a lesson to those who are willing to learn, it is this: The road from the past to the future does not end as long as there are travelers who seek the horizons yet ahead.

Bicentennial? Not the end of a journey but just one station on the way . . .

LEFT: "Ringing in America," the carillon of the Freedom Train provides musical diversion for Joan Hodges and Jeanie Meador as they wait for their turn to go through the exhibit cars.

Present becomes past as year concludes

Sandy,

This is going to be very long, I just want you to know. I have had the greatest year of my life just because of you. You have been a large part of my life. We have had many great times that all never forget especally (sp) all the dances. I know we have had some arguments but thats all over. I think the best is yet to come for us. When we went to J.S.B. I didn't know what kind of time we would have but it was great. You will never know how much I really love you because I really can't express how much I do. I want you to know that for as long as I live I will always be there for you to talk to. I want nothing better than the best for you. I plan to have a great summer with you because you make all the differance in the world to me. If something happened to you like move away or something. I would never like anyone else. That sounds stupid but I mean it. You mean more to me than anybody one else in the world. We are going to be ~~Juo~~ Soph. next year and ~~thats~~ going to be pretty wild. The big boys are going to be after you next year so this summer will have to be good for ~~us~~ us.

Well I better go.

Love you much,

~~Lots~~

Sandy,
I wish we could have been in some classes together but lunch was fun. Lets get together this summer before I go to camp and go streaking J.K.

Sandy
Hope I see you this Summer. Don't stay out in the sun to much. Your and Jett stay together. Must Fall Just have Fun

John

Sandy, it has been a blast being in your science and english class. Even though I don't know you well I think you are so cute. I highly of you cause hope to see you this summer and get to know you better in the years to come. all my love, Catherine C.

Sandy,
Well another year has gone by and I finally met you. I am so glad I did cause you are one of the sweetest people I know so please don't change. I love being with you. Cheerleading is going to be so much fun next year. JK!. I don't really know you very well, but what I do know of you is great. I just hope I get to know you twice as good in the years to come. Call me this summer please! Love forever & ever,

Teri

Sandy,
I Had alot OF Fun in Spanish. You remind me OF a diesel truck what bumper

Whit

SANDY,
I HAVEN'T SEEN YOU MUCH THIS YEAR AND I'M SO SORRY ABOUT THAT. YOU ARE SO SWEET AND WE HAD SOME FANTASTIC TIMES LAST YEAR. I HOPE WE CAN HAVE MORE. HAVE A GREAT SUMMER. HOPE TO SEE YOU SOON.

LOVE always,
NANCY

Sandy -
Can't believe this year is over. It's been tons of fun. English especially. Don't you think. I'll see you this summer. Get tan!
Love
Meg

Sandy,
We've been in each others Eng. for 2 yrs. (Kirkley Taylor) I hope you're in my Eng. next year! It's been fun in here, except I didn't talk to you. Hi! We got the last seating chart!
Have a great summer
Beth

Had fun in Spanish & book this year. Maybe you'll be in some of my classes next year. Have a good summer & I hope I see you some.

Drs '78 forever.
P.S.

Sandy -
Had a great time in Spanish. Maybe I can come by and watch you fall off your step bench. See you this summer.
Beth

Sandy
Glad that I got to know you this year. It was fun in Spanish. I'm sorry I didn't have a chance to talk to you more. You have a pretty nice personality. Cause another thing I didn't know about you was that you had a boyfriend. Also, you had a schedule of the events of the Drill Team. Call me a slut. (I love John Dill) Let me be (a.k.a. I don't know what I would do if he didn't). Stay and keep your hair long. I don't look too good on you. Have a great summer. Don't forget to write. Again I'm sorry, especially if it's somebody that says they are Richard. Love, Richard
